

NIGHT EDITION

IN POLICE COURT

Men Accused of Assault
Acquitted

Joseph H. Conlon and Daniel J. Donahue, who were arrested Tuesday afternoon on complaints charging them with drunkenness and assault, appeared in court this morning, the case having been brought up on continuance and at the conclusion of the hearing the two defendants were found not guilty of assault and battery but having admitted that they were drunk were each fined $5 and Donahue was fined $2.

Both men appeared in court yesterday morning and according to the testimony offered by witnesses the men had assaulted and robbed an unknown man in Hurl street. Two clerks in the Putnam & Son company's store testified to that effect.

They told of a conversation that they had with the man who it is alleged was assaulted and robbed, but they were unable to tell his name.

This morning a man who gave his name as John Kelly testified that he was in a liquor saloon in Central street and got "touched" for $5 yesterday morning. He testified that he was assaulted and robbed in Hurl street and told them what had happened. He denied that either man assaulted him or that they robbed him. He said that they had nothing to do with the taking of the money.

After the court considered the evidence in the case he found the defendants not guilty on the charge of assault, but as they had admitted they were drunk, fined Conlon $5 and Donahue $2.

Arrested on Suspicion
William Johnson was arrested on suspicion of larceny of a suit of clothes yesterday but when he was brought before the court this morning there was not sufficient testimony to convict him and inasmuch as the man had admitted that he had been drinking he was allowed to go his way after paying a fine of $1.

Johnson went to a second hand clothing store in Middlesex street yesterday and swapped a suit of clothes which he had for a cheaper suit and received some money in exchange. It was suspected that he had stolen the clothing and he was placed under arrest. He, however, explained to the satisfaction of the police that the clothing which he belonged to him and the court allowed him to escape with a $1 fine for drunkenness.

Albert Plante was charged with being drunk and he admitted that he had been so. Deputy District Attorney informed the court that the man had been annoying persons in the vicinity of the Textile school and the case was continued in order to allow the police to secure witnesses to testify to the man's actions.

Drunken Offenders
James P. Sheedy was arraigned on a complaint charging him with being drunk and a plea of guilty was entered. The court was informed that the man was on probation with Probation Officer Ramsey of the superior court and it was deemed advisable to continue the case until tomorrow in order to notify Mr. Ramsey.

Peter McLean, John Maroney, Maurice Callahan and James C. O'Loughlin were fined $6 each, and one first offender was fined $2.

LARCENY CHARGE

Men Accused of Stealing Hay

John H. O'Neil, aged 21 years, James H. Poole, aged 20 years, and Thomas J. Carroll, aged 17 years, while trying to perform the difficult task of carrying a bale of hay through Middlesex street today were apprehended by Officer Frank E. Early who questioned them and when they failed to give a satisfactory answer as to where they got the hay, sent them to the police station where they were booked for larceny.

The police are of the opinion that the hay fell from a car belonging to the Boston & Maine railroad which was stationed in the rear of the power house of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company.

The men were traveling through Middlesex street when the patrolman spied them and thinking it rather out of the ordinary for three men to be carrying hay through the streets he questioned them and when their answers did not agree he sent them to the police station. The men under arrest claim that they found the hay.

NOTED PICKPOCKET SEQUEL TO GRAFT CASE

Arrested by Lieutenant Martin Postmaster of Pawtucket, R. I.,
Maher at a Sideshow

Edward N. Travis, a self-confessed and notorious pickpocket who lives in the West End of Boston, was arrested by Lieut. Martin Maher of the criminal bureau of the local police, assisted by Inspector John Walsh, on the circus grounds last night. The capture was a clever one and reflects much credit on the lieutenant-detective.

As is usual when there is a circus or a big celebration in Lowell, Travis, who assigns his best men to keep tabs on the people who are apt to follow the circus.

Lieut. Maher with other officers, all being in plain clothes, visited the grounds yesterday afternoon and evening and besides visiting the different shows interspersed with the crowds, always being on the lookout for pickpockets.

About nine o'clock Lieut. Maher happened to be in one of the side shows and had been there but a short time when a man rushed up to him and said that he had been robbed by a man wearing a white handkerchief around his neck. Lieut. Maher made his way through the crowd and finally located the man but allowed the latter to go on his way but at the same time keeping him under surveillance.

As the man, who afterwards proved to be Travis, was leaving the side show he was stopped by Lieut. Maher who questioned him relative to the alleged larceny.

Travis at first denied that he was a wrecker and protested his innocence, but after he was told that he was going to be sent to the police station as a suspicious character, he admitted that he had robbed the man who complained to Lieut. Maher.

Travis was taken to the police station where he was booked as a suspicious person and later a complaint of larceny from the person was preferred against him.

Travis was questioned relative to the larceny and he admitted that he had searched the man's pocket and relieved the latter of some small change. He intimated that he was familiar with the law and said he would enter a plea of guilty if he would be let down "light."

It was found, upon investigation that Travis is a notorious pickpocket and has been arrested on numerous occasions and convicted and his likeness occupies a prominent position in the rogues' gallery in the police headquarters at Boston.

When queried as to why he came to this city he said that he was dead broke, down and out and wanted to collect some loose coin, but he admitted that it was a tough proposition to attempt to baffle the Lowell police.

He said he had heard that the Lowell police were on the alert and had caught many pickpockets and that the bun had been placed on Lowell, but thinking he might be able to gain something on chaus, he took a chance, but he was sorry he did so.

He was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with attempting to steal money from an unknown person and after pleading guilty was sentenced to four months in the House of Correction at Cambridge.

After receiving his sentence he was fingerprinted.

PARKS OR COMMONS

Cannot be Used as Drill Grounds
by Local Militia

Some time ago the committee on military affairs asked the opinion of the city solicitor as to whether any park or common in the city could be used as a drill ground by the local military companies. The solicitor gave his opinion today. It reads as follows:

Office of City Solicitor,
Lowell, Mass.
June 16, 1911.

Gentlemen:—I have your communication requesting my opinion as to whether any park or common in the city of Lowell may be used as a drill ground by the local military companies.

So far as parks established under the provisions of section 1 to 14 of chapter 28 of the Revised Laws are concerned, no such use is permissible, as by section 12 of said act military encampments, parades, drills, reviews and other military exercises are prohibited, and military bodies may not even enter such parks without the consent of the park commission. The have right to enter without the privilege of performing their manoeuvres would of course be no practical value to the companies.

With regard to all other parks and commons, it appears from investigation that the things required to be done for the purpose of successfully performing the various military exercises are of such a nature as to result in possible permanent injury to the land. Among other things trenches must be dug, embankments thrown up and trees cut down. Such things are of course contrary to the uses for which public parks are established and clearly cannot be permitted.

Even though there be no danger of injury to the land, still, since parks exist only for the benefit of the public as a whole, and not for any particular class, uses which restrict in any way the public right are, in my opinion, unlawful.

Very truly yours,
Wm. W. Duncan,
City Solicitor.

Counterfeit $10 Bills Have Been

Handed Out in This City

All people who are fortunate enough to be able to carry greenbacks in their pockets want to beware of counterfeit bills. Recently several "phony" $10 bills were passed on local merchants and rejected when brought to the bank. Now there is a $10 counterfeit bill in circulation and the banks are sending out warnings to their depositors and the police have taken the matter in hand in an attempt to capture the men who are presenting the bills. The police would like to get the people who printed the bills, but in all probability they do their work many miles from Lowell.

BIG FIELD DAY

In Aid of St. Mary's Parish

What promises to be a banner event in the history of Collinsville will take place tomorrow afternoon and evening, the occasion being the field day and social which is to be held at Rectory Grove under the auspices of St. Mary's parish. Rev. Thomas A. Walsh, the pastor of the church, and the committee in charge of the arrangements for the affair, have been bustling night and day and those who attend will be well repaid for the program is one which will not fail to please the most exacting person.

The grounds which adjoin the church will be decorated in an attractive manner and the weather man has given his assurance that the sun will shine during the afternoon and that the moon will be out at night. Taking that into consideration together with the fact that the electric cars pass the entrance to the grounds every five minutes, it goes without saying that there will be a large attendance.

During the afternoon there will be a ball game between a picked team from Lynn and the strong Beaver Brook aggregation. The game will start promptly at 2 o'clock in order that all may witness the baby contest which is to be held between 3 and 4 o'clock. The prizes for the baby show are the best ever offered in this vicinity and the "mothers' darlings" under the age of two years who are the prettiest, most strenuous, smallest and largest, will receive prizes.

A fine program of sports has been arranged for the afternoon and in the evening there will be an entertainment, concert and dancing.

PECULIAR CASE

Stepfather Is Grandfather of Same Man

BOSTON, June 16.—If your mother divorced your father and married his father, thus making a stepfather of your grandfather, what is your position of relationship in this family mix-up?

Walter Fenley has come to Boston to settle an estate thus involved through complicated relationships.

The story begins some 26 years ago when Edward Fenley, son of Thomas Fenley of Woonsocket, R. I., brought back a little girl from the Quaker city as his wife. The young wife immediately over the head of her father-in-law and the older man, a widower, had frequent visits to the home of his son.

After a year, during which time the couple had one child, Walter, born to them, Mrs. Fenley secured a divorce from her husband. Almost immediately her father-in-law sought her hand in marriage, and after a few months the two were wed. To further complicate matters the divorced husband married another woman.

For some years the child, Walter, was brought up by his mother and the stepfather-grandfather. In March, 1890, the elder Fenley died, at the age of 78 years, while his wife was 47 years of age. He left the bulk of his property, which amounted to $100,000, to his wife and her child. Immediately the children by his first marriage instituted proceedings claiming his second wife had married him solely for his fortune and had induced him to make out his will in favor of herself and her son.

For some time the matter has been fought in the courts of Rhode Island and Pennsylvania, but a decree was never made.

Finally it devolved upon the youngest member of the family, Walter, to settle matters out of court. He is in Boston now in the attempt to accomplish this, and he said last night that the various relatives were willing to settle the case with his mother for a substantial amount of money. He has not yet determined whether or not he will give up that amount to settle a case which will finally determine his own status regarding his several relatives, and also the position of the children of his divorced father if there be any born of his last marriage.

INDIAN MEDICINES

Said to Have Been Given Mrs. Bull Against Her Will

ALFRED, Me. June 16.—A new witness, Frances Kelley, of Cambridge, who was employed both at Greenacre and in Studio house at Cambridge as a cook for Mrs. Bull, gave additional evidence about the Indian medicines alleged to have been given Mrs. Bull against her will by Miss Margaret Noble at today's session of the probate court, in which is being heard the contest against the will of the late Mrs. Sarah C. Bull. The witness first met Mrs. Bull in September, 1908, when she entered her employment at Greenacre. The relations between Mrs. Bull and her daughter then were very affectionate. She told of the different people, including the followers of the strange Hindu religion, who were with Mrs. Bull at Eliot and who passed the winter of 1908 at Studio house. Among these were Dr. and Mrs. Bose of India, Miss Sarah J. Farmer, Miss Margaret Noble, Mrs. Albert H. Stevens, Nicola Roberts, Swami Parmananda, and many other people who came at times during the winter. Many receptions were held. A party of 12 or 13 boys from India were entertained in Studio house by Dr. Bose and wife.

The witness testified that she saw Miss Noble prepare the Indian medicine for Mrs. Bull during her sickness, the medicine which Dr. Reid had forbidden. She said Miss Noble would come into the kitchen at noon daily and mix the medicine, which came in stick form, with honey. It turned to a red shade. She never saw it given Mrs. Bull, but at one time she heard Mrs. Bull complain and object to taking it. She saw Miss Noble have two kinds of medicine, one of which was a dark brown fluid. She saw an other kind and understood both were Indian medicines.

She testified that after taking the medicines Mrs. Bull's feet and hands became swollen and her eyes bulged. She looked very strange. The witness noticed the change a week after the medicine was first administered. Miss Noble, she stated, continued to mix the medicine after she had noticed the changed condition of the patient.

ACTOR ARRESTED

Is Charged With Shooting Ball Player

ALBANY, N. Y., June 16.—First baseman Arthur Brown of the Albany team of the New York State Baseball league died last night in a hospital from four bullet wounds inflicted, he told the police, by John V. McStea, a New Orleans actor. The shooting occurred at a rooming house on Pearl street, where McStea said he found his wife in an apartment with Brown. McStea arrived in Albany last night, and proceeded directly to the house, where he asked to see Mrs. Brown. In a statement made after the shooting he said he heard his wife's voice upstairs and rushed to the hall above. When he entered the room, he said, he was brutally attacked by Brown, while his wife cowered in one corner.

Getting the worst of the struggle, McStea says, he drew his revolver and fired at Brown. Four shots took effect, two in the abdomen, one in the arm, another in the leg and a fifth went wild. Brown sank to the floor, where he was found an instant later by an officer who heard the shots from the street. McStea was placed under arrest, and his wife is being held as a witness.

Brown's home is in Wilkesbarre, Penn., where he was born 26 years ago. He started his professional baseball career with the Wilkesbarre club of the New York State league. He later played with the Detroit American league team, Montreal Eastern league club and the Trenton Tri-State league team, from which he was purchased by Albany two years ago. His playing yesterday was a feature of the Albany-Seranton game.

DIVORCE COURT

SEVEN JUSTICES TO PRESIDE BECAUSE OF NUMBER OF CASES

BOSTON, June 16.—Seven justices of the superior court will hear divorce cases all next week. This circumstance, unprecedented in Massachusetts and probably in the United States or elsewhere, was announced yesterday by Chief Justice Alden.

In order to assign such a large number of judges to the divorce court work it has been necessary to adjourn all jury sessions of the superior court two weeks earlier than usual.

Judge Dana, who has been presiding in the first jury session, will adjourn his sitting today and will be ready to start in on the regular divorce session Monday. Other jury sessions will be adjourned for the summer on Monday and then six judges will be assigned to the work of assisting Judge Dana clear up the June backlog of divorce trials. These judges will be: Judges Fessenden, Brown, White, DeCoursey, Quinn and Sherman. They will sit in the sessions where juries have usually been found.

When the June divorce session was to have come in last Monday it was found that Judge Richardson's illness required the presence of Judge Hitchcock in the equity division of the superior court and the divorce session was postponed until next Monday. There are 160 uncontested and 52 contested cases on the list, and it is thought that with all the seven justices at work the task of clearing up the docket will be finished in a week.

TUNNEL ELEVATORS

BOSTON ELEVATED MUST STAND THE COST OF THEM

BOSTON, June 16.—The Boston Elevated Railway company and not the city of Boston must pay for the elevators and machinery for running the same at the Atlantic Avenue station of the East Boston tunnel, according to a ruling by Judge Fessenden yesterday in the Suffolk superior court. The city was required to build the tunnel by the act of the 1887 legislature and the work was placed under the direction of the Boston Transit Commission. The ruling requires the Elevated to pay $14,159, the cost of constructing the elevator system, and interest since 1904, making a total of $51,612.32.

The act of the legislature required the Elevated to equip the tunnel after it was constructed. In 1904 the city and the company disagreed on the question whether the elevator system was a part of the tunnel or its equipment and an agreement was entered into whereby the city installed the system, with the understanding that the matter would be decided by the court later. This was done so that the public would not be delayed in its use of the tunnel station elevators during litigation, which might cover a long period.

RACE WITH TRAIN

HORSE IN WILD NIGHT DASH ON TRACKS

BOSTON, June 15.—A horse running wild without harness raced in front of a train for a half mile over the tracks of the Lexington branch of the Boston & Maine railroad early yesterday, and succeeded in staying ahead until it reached a point where it could leave the tracks.

The horse appeared in Davis square, running at great speed, shortly after midnight. At this point it passed on to the railroad tracks at the West Somerville station.

At the North Cambridge station he left the tracks to plunge into Alewife brook. When he came out of the water on the other side he was captured by two men who had witnessed the latter part of his run.

WILLING TO WED

BY THIS MEANS A MAN ESCAPES SENTENCE

BOSTON, June 15.—Willingness to marry secured probation on a robbery charge for Fred Sawyer of the South End, in the superior court yesterday. Sawyer had pleaded guilty to a charge of robbing George W. Wheeler of a watch fob, a satchel and two quarts of whiskey on a street in the South End. As he sat in the prisoner's cage awaiting sentence Probation Officer Keefe told the court that Sawyer had been living for several weeks with a woman as man and wife.

"That is a bad feature of the case," Mr. Keefe said, "Up to a year ago he was an industrious, sober man, but then he took to drinking and has later gone to living with this woman. But I believe that they are both willing to marry."

"I will not advise his marriage to her," said Judge Stevens, "but if he does marry her I will put his case on probation." Then to the prisoner he said: "Do you wish to marry this woman?"

"She wants me and none other and I want no other," replied the prisoner with a glad smile.

So Judge Stevens put his case on probation, instructing Mr. Keefe to bring him in for sentence if he did not marry the woman.

ASKS DIVORCE

ONLY WOMAN BALL TEAM OWNER ENTERS ACTION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 14.—Suit for divorce was begun by Mrs. Selwyn Britton here yesterday. Mrs. Britton is the owner of the St. Louis National League Baseball club and is the only woman owner of a major league ball team in the country.

Mrs. Britton, who stands high in Cleveland society, accused her husband of cruelty. Mr. Britton is out of the city and his friends profess ignorance of his whereabouts. He is president of the Britton Frating, company and has other large business interests.

Mrs. Britton is a niece of the late Stanley Robinson, who owned the St. Louis Cardinals, and she still occupies the beautiful Robinson home on the Lake Shore Boulevard. The couple have two children, a girl of 10 years and a boy of 8. It was rumored that Mrs. Britton had been to Cincinnati recently with her husband, but she declared last night she had not seen him for some time.

"I do not care to discuss my divorce petition," she said. "I have not seen my husband lately, and I have not been to Cincinnati or any other place with him."

Mr. and Mrs. Britton have lived apart for the past few months. It is not generally known in society that there had been trouble between the two, and the filing of the divorce petition yesterday came as a great surprise to their friends.

DIRECT NOMINATION BILL SIGNED

BOSTON, June 18.—An important step toward simplifying the political situation in Massachusetts was taken today when the state-wide direct nomination act became a law with the signing of the bill by Gov. Foss. The new measure applies to all state offices, congressional and legislative, but party conventions will still be called in order to frame platforms and also to nominate presidential electors.

The struggle for direct nominations began in Massachusetts several years ago and modifications of the old law were made covering certain minor offices in certain cities and towns accepting the act.

The present act was drawn by the late Secretary of State Olin on suggestions of his successor and then member of the house, A. P. Langtry of Springfield and Speaker Joseph Walker of Brookline. It passed both branches with little opposition and goes into effect at once so that the fall nominations for governor and state officers in November will be made directly by the voters.

A GREAT CIRCUS

Ringling Bros. Gave Best Show on Record

Some people use to say: "If you see one circus you see them all. It's the same old thing over and over again." That might have been right of some circuses but not of Ringling Bros., which went away last night leaving thousands of Lowell people happy.

Ringling Bros. circus gave the public an advance tip when it paraded the streets yesterday for it presented the neatest and cleanest street parade ever sent out by a circus. The show itself was in keeping with its appearance.

To enumerate the one hundred and one fine features would take columns and so large a percentage of the public witnessed the performance that a detailed account is unnecessary. Every department, if the word can be used, had something new. The horses, the dogs and elephants did stunts never done by horses, dogs or elephants before; the aerial performers eclipsed their predecessors, the acrobats had new stuff, the head balancers (Keweenaw) and even the clowns, and there were some clowns. They were up to date. Their acts were surprisingly funny and uproariously so and there was an army of them. Anybody who didn't get his money's worth at Ringling Bros. show this season must surely be hard to please. Two of the largest audiences that Lowell has ever turned out to a circus were present and never has such a show received such universal praise.

SENSATIONAL OFFER

Can you afford the luxury of an extra suit, if you are able to buy that extra suit of clothes at a price you often paid for a pair of trousers?

The story—The spring rush is over in the tailoring business. The cream is gone. My fight now is not to make profit. My fight now is to make no loss during the dull season.

I am choked with woollens—woollens that cost me good money. Contract requirements compel me to take these goods from certain mills under conditions or I will lose those mills and some of my advantages during the busy season.

I have to turn these goods into money while they are seasonable. Next month everybody will be marking down, but next month there will be no market worthy of the name. I mark down this month—now, today, when you need clothing and when the mark-down means something to you.

Look up and down this city and see what the suit you like brings in other stores, then come to me and see if you don't make an actual bona-fide saving of anything from $7 up in real, actual money.

YEGGS ROBBED CASHIER

They Got $15 But Missed $4000,
the Pay Employees

PLYMOUTH, N. H., June 16.—Two Boston yeggmen held up the woman cashier of the W. O. Veasey company, lumber manufacturers at West Thornton, N. H., yesterday afternoon. Four thousand dollars was due at the office yesterday for the payroll, and it was the purpose of the men to secure this money. As it had not reached the office, $15.55 only was secured, all the funds in the office.

One of the yeggs was captured by a posse of men in the woods an hour later, after he had been shot in the leg. He gave the name of John Howard, and said that until two weeks ago he lived with his wife and child at 122 Harrison avenue, Boston.

The Veasey mills are 15 miles from Plymouth and one mile from the West Thornton railroad station. At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Alice Head, the Veasey cashier, was confronted by a man wearing a false mustache and another who pulled a revolver at her and demanded what money she had. Mrs. Head was balancing the cash previous to receiving the payroll, and had $15.55 in the till. This she handed over. A demand was then made upon her for the money for the payroll.

Looked Through Safe
She told the robber that it had not yet arrived. "You lie!" he said, "throw up your hands!" He then passed to the safe and went through it, but found no money. Then he departed, leaving a cent in the till.

The store of the firm adjoins the office and while one robber confronted the cashier the other covered Jesse Kendall, the only clerk in the store. The alarm was given by Mrs. Head and Kimball simultaneously before the robbers were out of sight. The 200 employees of the mill immediately formed a posse and started after the men.

John Waters and Bernard Hanscombe, who were ahead of their companions, discovered the yeggs, and opened it upon them. One fell and as he rolled over with a shot in his leg, held up his hands and surrendered. He was immediately taken to the Veasey office where his wound was treated by Dr. John Wheeler of Plymouth. He was taken to Plymouth last evening by Deputy Sheriff Joseph P. Hucksins and Chief of Police Felix McCarthy. To a reporter who accompanied the officers, Howard said that he realized the situation and was willing to clear up the matter as best he could.

Howard said that his companion, who is at large, gave his name as Charles Davis of 48 Waltham street, Boston, but that he saw a letter in his room addressed to Robert A. Saunders. Saunders was the assistant clerk in the Veasey camp last winter, and knows every inch of the country about here.

The pair left Boston Wednesday, reaching Plymouth at 1 o'clock. Taking dinner here, they hired a team at Davidson's stable and went as far as Edward Littlefield's in Canton, four miles from Veasey's, where they left the team. Wednesday night they slept in a deserted camp near the Veasey mill. Yesterday morning they looked over the territory surrounding the mill and made some minor purchases in the Veasey store to get a line on the situation. Howard said Davis robbed Mrs. Head, while he threatened Clerk Kendall in the store with a revolver.

A posse of lumbermen from the Woodstock Lumber company took to the woods in the man hunt with the Veasey men. All were armed with rifles, shot-guns and revolvers, and every bridge, railroad crossing and all approaches to the nearby towns are guarded.

Davis is armed with a revolver. He is about 28 years of age, is about six feet four or five inches tall, slim, brown and weighs about 125 pounds. He has a wife and a young child in Boston, the mother not yet having left a hospital on West Brookline street, Howard says.

Howard is a Swede, and has served in the navy of his native country, he says. He is a rough looking character. At years of age, of light complexion, smooth-shaven and has prominent cheek bones. He is 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighs about 115 pounds.

Know it Was Pay Day
Upon his arms are tattooed a dozen numbers, one being a flag of Norway and Sweden. Howard states that he fell in with his companions a week ago and stayed with him until Wednesday at his home on Waltham street, where they had plenty to drink. There Davis told him that today would be pay day at the Veasey mill, and that they could easily hold up the woman cashier and get away with $2000 at least. Howard agreed to assist him in the undertaking, and they came up here with the intention of securing the money and getting away to Canada.

The payroll yesterday amounted to $1200 and during the holdup was in the hands of Simon Frye, superintendent of the Veasey mills, who had gone to the West Thornton Express office for it. While returning to the mill with the money in a handbag Mr. Frye learned of the holdup from members of the mill force who were pursuing the robbers. The pay was disbursed last evening.

Howard says that he and Davis have been painting in Boston during the past few weeks, their last work being on Blackstone street. According to Howard, his companion had $20 with which he purchased two revolvers, one of which he gave Howard, who lost it while jumping a fence after the robbery.

The man at large is supposed to be making a cross-country trip to catch a railroad train at Warren.

In the woods near the mill the robbers had played some supplies for maintenance, but these have been found by the officers.

Circulars of description have been sent broadcast this evening by Deputy Sheriff Joseph T. Hucksins. Howard's picture had played some supplies for maintenance, but these have been found by the officers.

A reward of $50 is offered by the W. O. Veasey company for the capture of the other robber.

SECOND ROBBER MISSING

PLYMOUTH, N. H., June 16.—No trace has been found of the second robber of the West Thornton hold-up pair, who escaped when his companion was shot down at the edge of a heavy timber growth after the daring robbery of Mrs. Alice Head, the bookkeeper for the W. O. Veasey Lumber Co., yesterday. During the earlier part of the evening searching parties made up of the lumbermen employed by the Veasey company covered the greater part of the surrounding country only to return empty handed. Communication with the police of the surrounding towns was also without results, no stranger corresponding to the bold highwayman having showed up at any of the towns near Thornton during the night. The local authorities are of the opinion that the escaped robber is in hiding in some part of the woods near Thornton and that with a better organized searching party his whereabouts can be located.

MAN FOUND STARVING

WILLIAM D. HANLEY.

William D. Hanley Wandered 56 Days a Swamp

MARLBORO, June 16.—After spending 56 days of helplessness in the swamp between Marlboro and Westboro, during which he says he did not have anything to eat, William D. Hanley, one of the most prominent young men in this city, was found emaciated and barely conscious, in the heart of the swamp, by four employees of the Metropolitan water works yesterday. He was in a terrible state of exhaustion, but was able to recognize his brother, John J. Hanley, and to ask after his father and his wife, whom he married last October.

Hanley's disappearance April 23 caused a sensation. No reason could be given except that he had been suffering from trouble with his head since an attack of the grip, and this it is thought may have unbalanced him. Hanley could give no explanation last night after he had gained enough strength to talk. He said he had wandered into the swamp, that he had occasionally seen persons pass but that for some reason he could not explain, he had been unable to call them. Most of the time, he said, he had spent lying upon the wet ground, huddled up in his overcoat, soaked by the heavy showers and chilled by the night air. He says he had had nothing to eat during all the time of his disappearance, but Mrs. Harvey A. Gilmore, wife of a farmer living on the outskirts of the swamp, thinks he must have milked some of the cows pastured nearby, although she says she had missed no milk, and that she had not seen him in the neighborhood.

In the effort to find Hanley, militia companies were called out and fraternal societies, school boys and citizens organized large searching parties. All efforts, however, were fruitless. Hanley was traced as far as White's Corner, where he left an electric car and there trace was lost. Circulars were sent all over the country by the police and by the Knights of Columbus and the Foresters in which he was sought. Hanley was prominent, but not a clown could be found.

Late yesterday employees of the Metropolitan Water Works saw footprints in the mud by the roadside. The steps led into the swamp and following them they stumbled upon Hanley curled up in a limp heap in the mud. Picking him up the workmen carried him back to the road, laid him down in a dry spot and went off to call for help.

City Marshall John F. Mitchell and Dr. J. J. Kelley of this city, with John J. Hanley were reached on the telephone and told of the discovery. Taking an automobile they were quickly on the scene. John Hanley, leaped from the machine almost before it came to a stop. Leaving over the back of the car, he turned back the collar of the overcoat and looked into the eyes of his brother.

"Milly," he called. The young man looked up and smiled. He murmured his brother's name and with a flash of returning vitality asked after his wife and then his father. Dr. Kelley made a brief examination and found him in a bad condition. He was moved as quickly as possible to John Hanley's home, where it was stated that he had a fair chance of recovery.

The men will leave the armory in special electric cars at 8:15 o'clock and proceed to Wilmington. They will then walk through that portion of the place that the proposed war maneuvers are to be held.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better, but you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

WEPT IN COURT

COMPOSER HELD ON A CHARGE OF BIGAMY

BOSTON, June 16.—Both wives of Robert R. Jones, 26 years old, well known as "Bobby Jones," composer of many of the best song hits of Ward & Volkes, faced him in the municipal court yesterday, and charging him with bigamy, caused him to weep hysterically in the dock. He almost went into hysterics.

Jones married an actress in Ward & Volkes' company, Miss May Jones, 13 years old, of Nashua, N. H. A dispatch in a Boston paper a few days later, stating "Bobby Jones is in town with Mrs. Jones, with whom he recently eloped," caught the eye of the first wife, Mrs. Grace M. Jones, as she read the paper one morning at breakfast in Cleveland, O., her home. She decided that if "Bobby" could give steady dinners at the Brewster here he could contribute a little to her support, so she took the next train for this city.

When she stepped on the stand yesterday her husband, who had not seen her for months, burst out crying and sobbed like a child, during the rest of the hearing, frequently hiding his head in his arms, and nearly collapsing several times.

Judge Parmenter placed a non-support charge against him on file, and on the bigamy charge, after hearing the evidence, found him guilty and continued the case for disposition until tomorrow, holding him in $500.

DARING BOY BANDIT

Who Held up Saloons is Surrounded by the Police

VALLEJO, Cal., June 16.—After a series of running battles with officers of three counties yesterday, Frank Melville, believed to be the boy bandit who has held up a dozen saloons in California towns recently, is surrounded in a swamp on Carquinez straits. It is thought Melville's ammunition is almost exhausted and it is believed his capture is certain.

Melville was traced to Vallejo last night through a pet snake he was carrying. Officers following him from town exchanged a volley of shots with the lad but he eluded them. Early yesterday he was seen near Glencove and replied to a command to surrender by a fusillade from his pistol, afterward diving into a field of grain. He was finally forced to take refuge in a swamp.

STATE SECRETARY

GETTING OUT BLANKS NEEDED UNDER NEW NOMINATION BILL

BOSTON, June 16.—Secretary of State Langtry is up to his neck in work preparing for the rush of applications for blanks under the new direct nomination bill, which will probably be signed by Governor Foss today.

He is preparing to send the blanks to each city and town clerk in the state, with printed instructions on the new law, giving all the fine details for becoming a candidate at the primary elections.

There will be a loud call also at Mr. Langtry's office, and the blanks are being run off by the presses at top speed. As soon as the bill is signed by the governor, the campaigners will get busy and the politicians will get the provisions of the bill down by heart, so there may be no slip-up when the day for filing arrives.

Under the new bill, filings will have to be made the latter part of August in some instances, and the voters from the middle of this month out will be asked whom they are going to support.

GLASSY BANTAMS FERRO IS GUILTY BOMB EXPLODED

Delmont and Lee to Meet Tonight

Judging from the talk among the sports, this evening's meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club will draw the largest attendance of members in the history of the organization. A better bill could not be arranged, for the main bout brings together the two leading claimants for the bantam weight championship of the world, one of whom has not been seen east of Denver for a year and concerning whom the finest of reports have come from the west. Kilo Lee has secured a decision over a boxer who got a draw with Jimmie Walsh, the world's champion while Al Delmont has boxed two draws with Walsh. Both boxers are reported to be in the pink of condition. The bout should be one of the fastest ever witnessed in Lowell, especially if the men agree to box straight Queensbury rules. Two fast preliminaries have been arranged and the program throughout is exceptionally attractive to the lover of good boxing. The management announces positively that none but bona fide members with membership cards will be admitted.

TRIESTE, Austria, June 16.—The reports emanating from Vienna of fatalities here resulting from the recent hurricane were greatly exaggerated. So far as known, not more than 25 lives were lost in this vicinity.

He Was Convicted of Manslaughter

BOSTON, June 16.—Carmelo Ferro, who has been on trial for murder in the first degree in the superior criminal court at East Cambridge since Monday, was found guilty of manslaughter yesterday and will be sentenced today. The defendant was accused of shooting Antonio DeLellis in a boarding house at 15 Bishop street, South Framingham, and also with the murder of Raphael Surro at the same time and place. The jury retired at 4:05 p. m. went to supper and at 8:30 o'clock went word to Judge Hardy for instructions. At 9 o'clock a verdict of manslaughter, with a plea for mercy, was reported. Judge Hardy then stated that Ferro would be sentenced today. Ferro, through an interpreter, said: "I want to be free. I am sick of being in jail. I shall commit suicide. I'll end my life before I'll go to prison." He was then taken back to jail. Ferro took the stand in his own behalf yesterday morning and despite a severe cross examination denied he fired the revolver. He declared the revolver produced in the trial was not his.

REPORT DENIED

THAT CASTRO IS ON THE GHOSTUCK

BERLIN, June 16.—George Grostuck, Easton agent at Berlin, who sold the dismantled Russian cruiser Umbria to the Italian government, stated today that the whole story to the effect that Cipriano Castro, the exiled president of Venezuela, was aboard the craft which is now known as the Consul Grostuck, is a myth. Grostuck received a cable today announcing the arrival of the vessel at Port au Prince. He said that she was to be delivered to Haiti. He added that Castro while in the hospital here in 1929 and negotiated with him for the purchase of two ships, but these negotiations were broken off when the Venezuelan president was deposed. The Consul Grostuck arrived at Port au Prince yesterday, flying the German flag, and the officials' name were received by President Simon. Later it was officially denied that Castro was on the steamer.

LOST CHILDREN

WERE PICKED UP BY THE POLICE

That the circus is an attraction which is irresistible to the children goes without saying, and yesterday many youngsters strayed away from their homes. Some were seen and saw the unloading of the cars and then went to the fair grounds to witness the erection of the tents. Many youngsters took "French leave" from their homes to see the parade and as a result the telephone operator at the public station was kept busy answering inquiries for lost children. During the day eight children who got lost were taken to the police station where they were cared for until their parents were located.

In a Cable Conduit in Chicago

CHICAGO, June 16.—For the third time in a month an explosion occurred today in a cable conduit of the Commonwealth Edison Co. in the subway on a railway track. The blast shattered windows in buildings within a radius of a block and threw several families from their beds. The police believe the explosion was caused by a bomb set off by labor agitators. Officers are making a search for the cause.

101 Years Old—Hale, Hearty and Vigorous

Mr. W. B. Yohn Is a Remarkable Man. He Has Lived a Very Active Life, But at This Advanced Age Still Retains His Health and Strength.

William B. Yohn, of 123 North Seventh street, Reading, Pa., celebrated the one hundred and first anniversary of his birth on May 4. Mr. Yohn was born in 1810, and recalls many of this country's early struggles along the frontier. In 1837 he went to Reading.

WILLIAM B. YOHN.

and has resided there with his family ever since. Since 1876 he has resided in the same house, which he built for his own use. He has always been actively engaged in business, following pursuits that called for physical endurance and bravery, being at various times a miller, constable, deputy sheriff and auctioneer. Notwithstanding this vigorous life, he looks and feels as fresh as his photo shows.

Mr. Yohn attributes a considerable part of the wonderful length of his life to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which has been consistently used by him whenever he felt the need of a tonic stimulant. In a letter to a friend recently he said, in part: "I was 101 years of age May 4th, having been born in 1810. For a good many years I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, with very fine results. I always felt much better and stronger after using it. I attribute my long life to the use of pure flavors taken moderately all my life. As a medicine I could recommend nothing better than Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."

Which men and women pass the age of sixty they need a remedy that will quicken the circulation, bring restful sleep, invigorate the brain and prevent decay. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only agent that will produce these happy results. It improves the digestion and assimilation of the food and gives tone and vitality to every organ in the body.

It has been used with remarkable results in the prevention and cure of all throat, lung and stomach troubles and all wasting and diseased conditions. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children; makes the old feel young, and the young strong and vigorous; recognized as a family medicine and prescribed by physicians everywhere.

Sold in sealed bottles only by all druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.60 a large bottle. Medical booklet, containing rare common-sense rules for health and testimonials, also doctor's advice, sent free to anyone who writes The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

CORPUS CHRISTI FEAST SENT TO PENITENTIARY

Open Air Services at St. Patrick's Sheldon Found Guilty of Using Funds Given Him to Invest

The annual Corpus Christi procession at St. Patrick's church will take place next Sunday afternoon, and like its predecessors of many years promises to be one of the most imposing open air religious events of the season. The feast of Corpus Christi, (body of Christ) is always observed all over the Catholic world by a procession in which the blessed sacrament is carried in state, the service concluding with benediction. In Catholic countries elaborate processions are held through the streets and in all countries where it is possible, outdoor exercises are held. In days gone by at St. Patrick's a procession through the street immediately surrounding the church has been held but owing to the great change in the locality the route has been abbreviated and is now confined to the convent gardens, Fenwick street and the church yard. In all other features, however, the time honored plans have been carried out.

where benediction will again be given and the exercises concluded with the singing of the Te Deum by the assembled choir and the congregation. The time of march will be headed by the Lowell Cadet band, which will play sacred music, while hymns will be sung by the church, academy and sanctuary choirs and chime bells alternating with the band will discourse sacred music. The sacrament will be borne by one of the priests of St. Patrick's, assisted by the pastor and curate under a canopy which will be carried by four prominent members of the parish and the path of the sacred ministers will be strewn with flowers from the baskets of a corps of little flower girls. The procession will be beautifully impressive and undoubtedly the usual large throng of people of all religious inclinations will witness it.

Feast of Sacred Heart

The feast of the Sacred Heart occurs one week from today and in its honor a triduum will be held at St. Patrick's church next week, beginning on Wednesday and concluding on the morning of the feast.

St. Patrick's Boys' School

The annual commencement exercises of St. Patrick's Boys' school will be held in the Academy of Music on the evenings of June 22 and 23.

MONTREAL, June 16.—"Guilty" was the verdict rendered today in the case of Charles D. Sheldon, charged with appropriating to his own use funds given him by various clients for investment. A sentence of five years in the penitentiary was imposed immediately. The judgment was rendered by Judge Langslet, who had conducted the trial in the court of special sessions.

Charles D. Sheldon first appeared in Montreal in the fall of 1908 and began advertising in a small way in certain daily and weekly newspapers. The game in which he posed as an expert was what is familiarly known in the world of finance as a "blind pool." He claimed to be on the inside of the stock market and that he could manipulate stocks in such a manner as to guarantee from 20 to 30 per cent. per month on his clients' investments. The first clients attracted to the venture were given large returns for their money and became themselves great advertising factors for the supposed "wizard of finance." The amount of business turned over by Sheldon became so great that he had to vacate the rather unpretentious office he was occupying on a side street and take up a large suite on St. James street.

His advertisements, however, became so bold that newspapers, convinced that his methods were not what he represented them to be, challenged the "wizard" to throw open his books. His departure on October 11 created consternation among his depositors, the larger part of whom were widows and people in straitened circumstances. On March 27 he was apprehended in Pittsburg by C. R. Hatfield, private detective, and William Lhore of the Pittsburg city detective force. Immediately following his arrest Chief McCaswell of the provincial detective force was notified and proceeded to bring Sheldon back to Montreal.

WAS CLERK OF COURT
BROCKTON, June 15.—The man sentenced to imprisonment in Montreal today under the name of Charles D. Sheldon admitted to the police after his arrest in Pittsburg last March that his real name was Charles W. Robinson and that he was formerly a resident of Brockton. While here Sheldon, or Robinson, who is a native of Sandwich, Mass., conducted a stock brokerage business and was for a part of the time clerk of the police court. He disappeared in 1890 and almost simultaneously he was indicted on charges of having forged notes to the amount of about $500,000. Later, under the name of Charles R. Wilson, Robinson lived in Norwood, R. I., where he was principal of a grammar school and in 1900 and 1901 taught school in Tiverton, R. I. In 1905 he visited Brockton and called on Judge Lloyd E. Chamberlain, whom he asked if prosecution would follow should he return to Brockton to live. Judge Chamberlain advised him that he would be prosecuted and Robinson again disappeared. Local acquaintances and the local police then lost all track of him until his arrest in Pittsburg.

O. J. ROCHELEAU, Treas.

St. Paul, Minn., June 1, 1911

Mrs. Letourneau, Moody St., Lowell, Mass.

Madam:—We have decided to accept your offer of 51 per cent. on the dollar for the list of goods bought by I. S. Farland of Riverside, Ill., per itemized account mailed to you on request.

One of the reasons why we have departed from our previous custom is that the market is low at present, and again because your cash offer is very acceptable at this time of the year. Again we have taken into consideration the fact, that the above firm had paid 20 per cent. on assortments of beds, National springs, stoves, chairs, tables, buffets, bureaus, art squares, mattresses, baby carriages, mirrors, sideboards as per statement on which you thereby benefit by the above credit.

This should, per your letter, give you one of the best bargains for your anniversary sale, and no doubt one of the greatest sales of cut prices ever given in your city.

We wish to thank you for this first account, and hope to be able to give you some good bargains in the future, although we must say not at as low a price.

Yours Respectfully,

Dic. M. S.

PROFIT OF $500,000 THE O. M. I. CADETS

Will Go Into Camp at
Milligan's Grove

Was Made by the Oxnard Brothers in One Night

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Half a million dollars profit was garnered by the Oxnard brothers almost over night when they put their Brooklyn sugar refinery at $290,000 into the sugar trust of 1887, according to the testimony of Henry Oxnard, vice president of the American Beet Sugar Co., before the house sugar trust investigating committee today. They sold the "trust" certificates two years after they received them for $750,000.

"We were rather glad to sell out," said Mr. Oxnard. "Cut throat competition existed in those days and unless the beet sugar business turned out as we thought it would be a little doubtful about our keeping going."

The witness said that the capitalization of the Brooklyn factory was only $100,000, but that the plant was worth $200,000.

"On this little transaction you cleaned up half a million. Now, how much water was in the other deals? How much did Captain Thomas make?" asked Chairman Hardwick.

"I do not know. We were probably treated a little better than the others."

"Why?"

"They wanted the name," said Mr. Oxnard. "They really bought out the Oxnard Bros."

He said he did not stay with the "trust," but went abroad and after studying the beet sugar industry in Europe returned to America to engage in that business in earnest opposition to the "trust."

Pantelis Parfaras, 21, operative, 523 Market street, and Aspasia Derton, 22, operative, Peabody, Mass.

The annual tour of camp duty for the O. M. I. Cadets will be held at Milligan's grove, Wilmington, either the last week of July or the first week, and it is probable that the camp will last for two weeks. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., chaplain of the cadets, this morning secured an option on the grove for the two weeks, and what promises to be the greatest encampment of boys that ever took place in New England is being arranged. The details are being looked after by the military instructor, Lieut. Bernard MacRille and he will have two West Point men on the field during the entire time that the boys are in camp, to help in their military instruction and to watch the military movements. There will be three hundred boys in camp and the rules that govern the conduct of regular troops in camp will be enforced. Tents will be pitched this Saturday before the cadets go into camp so that everything will be in readiness when the young soldiers reach the grove. The contract for feeding the boys will be awarded to a local caterer. The physical instructor of the cadets, Police Officer Mat McCann, will be on hand to give them plenty of exercise, and there will be a ladies' day, officers' day, and guests' day, which will be the big day of the camp, as it is expected that on this day there will be a number of people from out of town present to witness the drill and the sports in which the cadets will take part. The cadets will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the immaculate Conception school hall to make arrangements for the affair.

HELD AS A FORGER

BOSTON, June 15.—Howard B. Gurney, a prominent young salesman of Melrose and son-in-law of Mayor Eugene H. Moore, had just turned from the grave of his wife in Melrose cemetery, into which the last shovelful of earth had fallen, late yesterday afternoon, when plain clothes men of the Melrose police department stepped up on either side and arrested him on a charge of forgery. Within another minute Gurney was riding, handcuffed, not to the maiden home he had left an hour before, but to the Melrose police station.

The arrest was the sensational climax of a remarkable funeral. It was made so quietly that but very few of the hundreds who attended knew of the fact while it was going on—but the few who did were astounded.

Mrs. Gurney, the dead wife of the man under arrest, had been one of the most prominent young women in Melrose society. She was the daughter of Mayor Eugene H. Moore, and before her marriage, had been employed in the mayor's office, where she made an unusually large acquaintance. As the mark of respect, all the public buildings of the city were closed yesterday and their flags displayed at half-mast, while many stores suspended business during the funeral. With the exception of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, no other woman had ever received a similar mark of respect in Melrose, and Mrs. Gurney was the youngest person ever to receive such an honor.

The procession to the cemetery was a long one. In the last coach rode Capt. O. E. Drown of the Melrose police and Patrolman William C. McCarthy in plain clothes. During the brief service at the grave they remained seated in the carriage. As the services closed and the friends gathered round to throw a few clouds upon the coffin the two policemen slowly approached the grave and the spot where Gurney was standing.

They stood for some time behind him while the husband, as if in a daze, watched the filling of the grave. When this had been completed he turned slowly and started for the waiting carriage. He had gone but a few steps when he was halted and the arrest was made.

He accepted the situation without protest, and within a minute from his leaving the grave, was on his way to the Melrose police station to be handed over to the Springfield police, on whose request the arrest had been made.

The warrant against Gurney was sworn out by Henry Millett of Stoneham, who alleged that three weeks ago, Gurney paid him a bill of $5 without check of $28. Millett says that he gave Gurney his change, but that when he tried to cash the check it was sold to be worthless.

TRADES AND LABOR

COUNCIL HELD SEMI-MONTHLY MEETING LAST NIGHT

Despite counter attractions, including the circus, the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Trades and Labor council, held last night at 32 Middle street, was well attended.

The labor day committee reported that it had visited several unions since the last meeting and urged them to take immediate action upon what they proposed to do on that day and report to the council at once. Eight locals reported that they had voted for a parade on labor day.

Team Drivers union, local 72, reported that they were having trouble with three coat dealers, and the delegates were instructed to report the same back to their locals.

The following delegates were added to the labor day committee: Bartenders, John O'Neill; Building Laborers, John Buey; Brewery Teamsters, Michael Hines; City Teamsters, Henry Hupparland; Painters, John H. Murphy.

Several unions reported that they have contributed to the defense fund of the McNamara brothers.

The organizing, labor and legislative committee made progressive reports. It was unanimously voted to recommend to the various locals that Labor day be celebrated with a parade and the usual entertainment on the South common. Several communications were received and proper action taken thereon.

The council will meet in special session on Thursday evening, June 29. In accordance with the constitution, the secretary has notified all locals that the semi-annual election of officers will take place on Thursday evening, July 6.

Boy Fell Into Tub of Hot Water

Wladyslaw Wegzynluk, a little boy whose parents live at 16 Davidson street, died yesterday at St. John's hospital from burns he received some time ago at his home. The child's mother was washing and in the middle of the kitchen on the floor stood a tub of hot water. The little fellow while playing on the floor, hopped into the tub and received severe burns. He was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died yesterday afternoon.

CLASS OF EIGHT

Graduated From Lowell General Hospital

Eight young women were graduated from the Lowell General hospital Training school yesterday. The exercises were held on the lawn in front of the hospital and the weather was ideal. The graduates were Misses Della May, the Buchanan, Lily May Dow, Elizabeth May Fraser, Lillian Ella Gould, Mabel Beatrice Hall, Alta Eunice Ladd, Gertrude Francis Robinson and Hilda Ottilia Rosell.

The exercises were opened with music by an orchestra, and prayer by Rev. George E. Keenough, Mrs. Jacob Rogers presiding.

The principal address was by Miss Mary M. Bidde, superintendent of the Newton hospital and president of the State Nurses' association.

She spoke of the reaction in public sentiment toward the trained nurse, as due largely to the fact that the nurse of today is trained as a handmaid of the medical staff, rather than as the Sister of Charity. She believes that more stress should be laid upon cultivation of the sympathetic side, and she advocate higher standards of refinement and thoroughness in the candidates for the nursing profession, and said that the theory behind the work is what counts. In our vocational training we must have enough theory to make us resourceful.

Many voices of words are opened to nurses today, and they are constantly increasing. Are we preparing ourselves along the line of preventive medicine?

In a hospital such as this, the nurses have special advantages, because the numbers are not enough to prevent special personal study.

Before closing her address, she placed before the nurses an appeal from suffering humanity, in the Algonquin mountains, where the conditions were described, under which native Americans are living, rival almost the conditions of the stone age.

She closed with a few words of advice to the graduates, exhorting them to keep faith with the medical profession, and with themselves. As members of a profession, she said, they cannot choose their own time to serve, but must ever stand ready to go to all. The moment they begin to care for special patients, they risk to the level of trades people.

Dr. J. Arthur Gage, president of the hospital staff, spoke on the future work of the nurse, in meeting the responsibilities of their profession. Like the doctor, he said, they enter the homes the detention department as one of the new features, where patients who may develop contagious cases, may be removed from the other patients. He also spoke of the light that has been shed on the subject of the brown-tail moth, to save the trees.

Mr. James Rogers, president of the board of directors, presented the diploma. Miss Bowen, the superintendent, attaching the board of directors that are the badge of distinction to the uniforms of the young nurses.

The closing prayer was by Rev. A. St. John Campbell.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the exercises.

Among the visitors present was Miss Lord, who last year resigned her position at assistant superintendent of the Lowell General, to become superintendent of a large hospital in Providence.

Anty Drudge on True Economy.

Mrs. Newed—"I'm economizing by doing my own washing. By boiling the clothes a long time I can get the dirt out without much hard rubbing."

Anty Drudge—"Economizing shucks! You're burning up money in fuel and wearing out your clothes faster when you boil them. Use Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water without boiling. You'll save fuel, save your clothes and you won't have any hard rubbing. That's true economy."

How much are the clothes worth that go into your weekly wash?

Many dollars at least.

Isn't it worth while to take good care of those clothes, to make them wear as long as possible?

Then, why soften them by boiling and hardrub them into holes on the washboard?

The Fels-Naptha way of washing will save your clothes.

Fels-Naptha will cleanse them thoroughly in cool or lukewarm water without boiling or hard rubbing.

The clothes will be sweeter, cleaner and whiter than you can get them any other way. And they'll wear twice as long.

Remember,—whether winter or summer, no boiling, no hot water, no hard rubbing.

Time saved, fuel saved, work easier, less bother.

Follow simple directions on the red and green wrapper.

PROGRESS IN AVIATION

The next great show to attract Lowell citizens will be an aviation meet. Thus far only a few of us have seen the real flying machine and hence the first to exhibit here will be a great attraction to the people. The country tents of Ovington and Atwood at Boston yesterday and their circling the state house were far more daring than anything attempted at the aviation meet at Squantum last year. In that contest Graham-White carried off the honors by rounding the Boston Light, but a part of the original course that lay over the city of Boston was cancelled as being too dangerous. The air men have been busy ever since and today they are far more daring than they were then. The fact that in that time a great many have been killed has not daunted the survivors in the least. They are now testing their machines in cross country flights and in such daring feats as that of yesterday at Boston. The time is not far distant when everybody in Lowell will be as familiar with the real flying machine as they are with the big balloon of the Aero club that has made numerous ascents from the yard of the Gas Light company.

WORKMAN'S COMPENSATION LAW

One of the most important questions that the legislature has to deal with is that of framing a workman's compensation law that will serve all the interests concerned and at the same time stand the test of constitutionality. A commission of five was appointed to consider this question a few years ago, and after a very careful investigation the members have failed to reach any unanimous conclusion. This is not at all strange for the reason that a law enacted in New York was declared unconstitutional. New Jersey endeavored to get around the legal difficulty by making the law permissive instead of compulsory upon the employer's part. Even against this law there is legal objection and the manufacturers are now bringing up a test case in order to decide whether it can be enforced. Of the three bills introduced in the legislature by members of the commission one provides a compulsory system under which the employer will be obliged to pay compensation for any accident to the employee. This law also provides that the employer may escape liability by insuring in some authorized company. It also provides an accident board and authorizes the employer to enter into contracts with his employees for a plan of compensation that will meet the approval of this board.

The second measure is permissive and aims to solve the problem by a great mutual insurance company. The premiums are to be paid by employers, varying according to the extent of the risk involved in the particular line of business.

The third bill is also compulsory and provides that both employer and employee shall contribute to a fund from which accident claims shall be paid. Thus it will be seen that the problem as it is now placed before the legislature is very much complicated, and it would indeed be very difficult to produce from all three bills a single measure that would meet all the requirements of the situation and at the same time stand the tests of law. It is perhaps too much to expect that this problem will be properly solved by the present legislature, but it is better to go slow than to enact a measure that will prove abortive.

GIVING THE PEOPLE MORE POWER

It is now quite certain that the new charter will be enacted by the legislature. The senate is practically unanimous in passing it, and members of the house who know the feeling of the lower branch predict that it will have easy sailing there also. That will insure the reference of the charter to the citizens of Lowell in order that they may pass judgment upon it.

Some years ago the government of American cities was highly discreditable to this republic, and was freely criticized in other countries. The number of cases in which gigantic frauds were revealed and the perpetrators brought to justice has finally aroused the entire people of this republic and the general sense of shame has resulted in a widespread wave of reform that is sweeping the country from west to east, with the prospect that in the near future American cities will be conducting their business under a system more businesslike and more effective than ever before adopted.

The tendency is to give the people absolute control over their elected officials and to place in their hands the power of direct legislation in the initiative and referendum. What is true in this respect in regard to the cities is also true of the state and national elections. The people so far as the constitution will permit, will have absolute control over the government of the city, state and nation. It is now practically assured that United States senators will eventually be elected by the people, and the time may come when even the enormous machinery of presidential elections will be abolished, so that the president may be elected by direct vote of the people. It is now possible to elect a president of the United States with less than a majority of the votes cast provided he gets a majority of the presidential electors.

The municipality is a corporation in which every citizen has an equal voice in the government. It is true that the city does not pay financial dividends, but it pays dividends in a form of protection for all its citizens in well paved streets, in its sewerage system for the protection of health, its public parks, its schools and its fire department. If the city is extravagant in its expenditures the tax rate will go up and rents of tenement property will be advanced. Thus the man who hires a tenement is interested equally with the property owner in economic government.

The opposition to the charter mainly comes from those who have selfish reasons for opposing the change. There is every reason to believe that their opposition will prove fruitless in the face of the vast increase of power that is to be placed in the hands of the people through the new charter. The citizens will then realize as never before their sovereignty and they will have it forcibly illustrated in the government of their own city.

SEEN AND HEARD

To "Constant Reader": "When the 24 hour law goes into effect, beginning January 1, 1912, women and minors, of course, will average 5 hours a day. Does that answer your query?"

"I know why a canal can go eight days without a leak," said Jimmie, the Western Union messenger, to a reporter, as the cross parade passed the telegraph office.

"Why can he go eight days?" asked the reporter.

"Because he's got a water tank on his back," said Jimmie.

We know a fellow who, when he was fighting potter's boss on the old home street, would set up at 1 o'clock in the morning and cover three acres of potatoes with manure. He was killed with plaster paris in order to get through in time to go to work and see the circus parade—a very poor one at that. Yesterday, that same fellow, gray and unappetizing, looked times if with dignity while the parade passed his office.

TO ONE NEGLECTED (Henry Edward Warner, in Baltimore Evening Sun.)

Who daily goes his plodding way And takes his foot off he is gray, Yet never asks for praise nor pay? Way, Father!

Who often obligates himself To pay out grinning with a self— Yet sits unheeded on the shelf? Poor Father!

Who pays the doctor bills and such And dies before he beats the Dutch— Yet who's not thought of very much? It's daddy!

Who robs the kid at any of dawn With only his pajamas on, And never cares to say "Good-bye?" Some person.

Who is it never makes a kick But someone hits him with a brick? Who grins and blurs it, then and there? Our father!

Who washes dishes now and then, And rises the souls of lesser men? Who falls, but gets right up again? The Governor!

Who, when this weary life shall end, His way to heaven's rest will send? And somewhere find a lady friend? Why, little child!

Hence is this lyric writ To praise poor dad a little bit— My interest is that I didn't! The Father!

It has always been the aim of the management of the Merrimack square theatre to provide entertainment of the very highest type and in this particular much success has been attained. Only such excellent and amusing presentation is desired, the kind at which none can take the slightest offense, and which appeals to men, women and young folk.

"The Summer Girls" the leading feature at this popular playhouse, this week, is one of the real good things which is attracting large numbers to all performances. Talented young women, graduates of the Boston Conservatory of Music, are engaged in the

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N.Y.—"Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with headaches, backaches, and bearing down pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. It made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear corsets all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." Mrs. A. A. GILES, Route 41, Dewittville, N.Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company, which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A CONSTANT ITCHING AND BURNING

Night and Day, Gried All the Time, Used Most Everything, Cuticura Remedies Cured Itching in 3 Days. Healed in 8 Days.

"I was taken with the itch in April, 1904, and used most everything. I had a friend pay me a visit from Cambridgeport, and she advised me to use Cuticura Remedies which I did. The cure was certainly quick, and I use them to this day. I had it terribly bad and my knees, and I only used one box of Pills, but two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and I use the Cuticura Soap all the time. I hope this will benefit others, as it has me, after Mr. W. Johnson, 1523 North St., N. W., Washington, D. C., April 3, 1910.

In a later letter Miss Johnson adds: "The trouble began with an eruption under my knees, and extended upwards toward my waist, until I was not able to sit down. It kept a constant itching and burning all the time, night and day. I went to my doctor but he could do me no good after I don't know how many medicines he gave me, and then told me I would be compelled to go to a skin specialist, which I positively refused to do. I cried all the time. Finally I tried my mind to try Cuticura Remedies, and tried Cuticura Pills, Ointment and Soap, and was entirely cured of the itching three days after I started using them. The itching took about eight days. I can't say enough for Cuticura. I would recommend them everywhere. I hope everyone suffering from any skin disease will try Cuticura, for it is the best remedy." The Cuticura Remedies afford the speediest and most economical treatment for skin and scalp troubles. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole people, 139 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass. *No medical fees, samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, with 32-p. book on skin treatment.

ATTACHMENTS

On Ringling Brothers' Circus

The circus people as well as everyone else have their troubles at times, and yesterday two attachments were made on the Ringling Bros' circus. One was made at the instigation of Mr. Edward Caskey, owner of the Washington Tavern, property who alleges that as a result of one of the advance men putting advertising matter on the roof of the building a leak was caused. The other attachment was made at the request of Michael Murphy who claims that the circus was using land owned by him without authority. In each instance the circus people furnished a bond as a guarantee that they would appear in court when the matters were ready for trial.

SAFE WAS BLOWN OPEN

Burglars Broke Into Factory Office
at East Jaffrey, N. H.

EAST JAFFREY, N. H., June 16.—The safe in the office of White Brothers cotton mill here was blown open early today but so quietly did the burglars do their work that no one was aroused and the night watchman of the factory, who was in the boiler house at the probable time of the break, was not aware that there were any intruders upon the premises. The day is pay day at the factory and it is believed that the burglars thought that the payroll would be in the office safe. In this they were mistaken as the payroll money was in the vault of the local bank and the break netted the thieves only about $75.

Before entering the mill office the burglars broke into a blacksmith shop where they stole some tools and into a harness shop where they took some blankets which they wrapped about the safe to dampen the sound of the explosion. The knob on the safe was knocked off and the door was blown completely off. The break was discovered by the watchman when he made his rounds of the factory after day-break. On his previous visit to the mill office at midnight everything was all right. While the burglars worked on the safe an electric light burned in the office and another light was shining over the window through which they made their entrance and exit.

The authorities have no clue whatever to the identity of the burglars or the direction in which they fled.

BADLY DAMAGED

Maine in Worse Condition Than Thought.

HAVANA, June 16.—That the shattering of the hull of the battleship Maine, expressed by the mute testimony of steel ribs bent apart, decks upheaved and hurled far from their original position, bulkheads crumpled like sheets of paper and apparently inextricable and hardly identifiable masses of construction material, is evidently far greater than supposed, was revealed yesterday as a result of a superficial observation made possible by the lowering of the water level in the cofferdam a total depth of seven feet.

On account of this unforeseen revelation of the terrible character of the explosion which sent the battleship to the bottom of the harbor, all plans heretofore proposed for dealing with the ultimate removal of the hull have become merely conjectural until a considerably greater amount of water has been pumped out.

The bow section is still nearly twenty feet below the surface, and here it is believed the destruction will be found to have been even more complete.

Col. Black of the engineer corps said last evening he had recognized expectation of lowering the water a total depth of eighteen or twenty feet within three or four days, which would render possible a fairly complete exploration of those portions of the ship, except the bow section, where men were likely to be on the night of the disaster.

It is probable the searchers may be able to enter the officers' quarters in the after superstructure today, where they may find the remains of Ensign Merritt, the only officer whose body was not recovered.

NEAL ARRESTED

Charged With Larceny of Money

BOSTON, June 16.—A chase through Columbus avenue by a policeman in an automobile and the capture of George E. Neal, aged 30, of 59 Appleton street, who is charged, had struck Alvin Lewis of 329 Columbus avenue over the head with a revolver after seizing a roll of bills amounting to $500, was witnessed yesterday afternoon.

Neal was taken to station 5 in the automobile which had been pressed into service in the chase, and was locked upon a charge of larceny. The money and the revolver with which the assault was committed were found in his clothing, the police said.

A discussion arose between Neal and the latter's wife, in the apartment of the Lewis family about 4 o'clock, regarding a money transaction between Neal and Mrs. Lewis. The latter had drawn $500 from a bank earlier in the day to pay certain bills, and she held the money in her hand.

Neal declared Mrs. Lewis owed him $100, and the latter asserted that she had settled Neal's bill in full, according to the story told the police.

Neal thereupon it is declared seized the entire roll of bills from Mrs. Lewis.

BOAT DISABLED

Passengers Transferred to Another Steamer

CLEVELAND, O., June 16.—Two hundred members of the Michigan Fishermen's association, who started on a pleasure hunt leaving Detroit yesterday on the steamer Western States, are on their way to Buffalo on the steamer City of Cleveland this morning.

The Western States following the disabling of that boat in mid-lake last night. Wireless telegraphy was responsible for the quick rescue and it was the first time in the history of the Great Lakes that the wireless was put to such a practical test.

The Western States was disabled by the bursting of a boiler and through she was in no condition to leave the lake at once.

When the City of Cleveland arrived at the Western States, she was in no condition to leave the lake at once.

The Western States turned her nose toward Detroit and is attempting to reach that port, traveling by means of her auxiliary engines.

SENATOR LODGE

WANTS TO CUT EXPENSES ON MINERAL WATER

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Apparently uneasy over the growing habit of mineral water drinking by senators and their office staffs, Senator Lodge yesterday introduced and had adopted a resolution which is expected to check the practice.

The resolution invests in the committee on audit and control of contingent expense control of all expenditures for running expenses of the senate.

Senator Bacon inquired whether the passage of the resolution would cut off the supply of mineral water to the senate.

"Not at all," said Mr. Lodge, "it relates to running expenses such as mineral water for use in the senate chamber."

The bill for mineral water for senators' offices are said to have been unusually heavy for the senators' demand and the most expensive beverage.

The same spirit of economy that is cutting down the water bills is held responsible by senators for the failure of the summer legislature to appear in the senate chamber rooms.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER

ARRIVED IN CLEVELAND TODAY FOR HIS SUMMER STAY

CLEVELAND, O., June 16.—Lamenting that it was impossible for him to visit Cleveland without attending newspapermen to the station, John D. Rockefeller arrived here today for his annual summer stay at Forest Hill, his estate in East Cleveland.

He will be accompanied by Mrs. Rockefeller and the latter's sister, Miss Lucy Spelman. Mr. Rockefeller, on leaving his private car, was immediately surrounded by a flock of reporters.

"Please, please, gentlemen," pleaded the richest man in the world, "don't question me. Please, please."

"Why can't I be allowed to come home like any ordinary man?"

G. A. Rand, Mr. Rockefeller's brother-in-law, met the party at the station and carried its members away to Forest Hill in an automobile.

BODY OF A GIRL

Found in Bath-Tub in a Hotel

BOSTON, June 16.—Miss Gertrude A. Loring, an accomplished, 23-year-old, of 18 Tullyway, West Somerville, was found dead, her head submerged in a bath tub in the Hotel Hollis last night.

The medical examiner believes that the woman was accidentally drowned.

She had evidently filled the bath tub with water and stepped into it, and the water she stumbled head first into the tub and was unable to recover her balance.

A bellboy at the hotel, John Sullivan, hearing the water running in the tub for two hours, broke open the bathroom door and found her bending over the tub with feet on the floor and head submerged.

She was a good-looking woman and well dressed and carried a suit case. She was the daughter of George A. Loring, a contractor for many years in Charlestown. Among her effects was found a contract in which she gave the name of Gertrude A. Loring and contracted to sell pictures.

Sullivan was the last to see her alive. She called for a maid to remove a new pair of shoes. She told him she was going to take a bath. He said that at that time she had shown no nervousness, but was very talkative.

She walked into the hotel at 420 and registered under the name of Madeline Miller of the Hollis Street theatre. She told Clerk William Murphy she wanted a room and commented on the weather and was shown to room 24 on the fourth floor, which has a private bath.

The young woman left her home early yesterday morning. The death of her mother less than a month ago had affected her somewhat.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

A RECORD ECLIPSE

June 16.—If you had been alive on June 16, 1896, you would have had a severe storm into you that would probably have kept you talking ever since, the same as every Irishman that ever saw the "old sod" is still talking about "the night of the big wind." On the above date there was a total eclipse of the sun that stands as a record in the United States. For five minutes the moon was in a position that obscured the light of Old Sol to such an extent that the chickens went to roost wondering what had made the day pass so quickly. Children were frightened out of their wits, and some of their elders weren't any too comfortable. Some were driven to pray and others to drink. The day was cloudless and this added to the scare, because it gave Mr. Moon a chance to get in the shady work without any interference. Some people insisted that it was a sign from heaven and that the Master was about to show his wrath for the sins of the world. But everything came out all O. K., showing however that a "quilt conscience" is its own accuser. If the same thing were to happen today it would probably be funny to watch the actions of some of the leading "trust magnates."

COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 915 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 14 EAST L STREET.
COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 1960 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 15 RIVERSIDE AVENUE.
COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 1480 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 7 DEVLIN'S COURT.
COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 1315 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 6 W. BURNSIDE AVENUE.
COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 1282 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 5 W. BURNSIDE AVENUE.

The owners of the above five parcels, having purchased a farm in Pelham, N. H., and having taken up their residence there, is their only reason for disposing of the above properties.

First Parcel at 3 O'Clock
At No. 14 East L street, consisting of cottage house and about 915 square feet of land.

On the premises regardless of any conditions of the weather I shall offer for sale this cozy little cottage house of four rooms, pantry, toilet and cemented cellar. There are two rooms on the first floor and two good chambers on the second floor. It is rented by a fine tenant and brings in a rental of about $95 a year. Now for some one who is looking for a nice little cottage in Centralville, they should look this parcel up. The property is located on East L street, between Coburn and Jewett streets and is the third property from Coburn street. The lot has an area of about 915 square feet and is all fenced in.

TERMS—$100 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

Second Parcel at 3.30 O'Clock
Six room cottage house and about 1960 square feet of land at No. 15 Riverside avenue.

The house which consists of six rooms, has three rooms on the first floor, and 3 bright and airy chambers on the second floor. It is lighted throughout by gas, is conveniently laid out, is in excellent shape inside and out, and rents for $10 a month or $120 a year. The lot has a good frontage on the avenue and contains about 1960 square feet, is all fenced in, and there is considerable yard room in the rear. Now don't you think it would be a good idea to stop paying rent, and if this cozy little home is large enough for your family to look it up and attend the sale?

TERMS—$150 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

Third Parcel at 3.45 O'Clock
Cottage house and about 1480 square feet of land at No. 7 Devlin's Court.

This cozy little cottage has four rooms, two on the first floor, and two on the second floor, and rents for $85 a year. The lot which has a good frontage on the Court, contains about 1480 square feet and is all fenced in. Now here is a chance for the man who is desirous of owning his own home and has but a small amount of money, as it will take but a very small amount of money to purchase a little home of this kind, so just get your courage up and stop paying rent—make a start for yourself and be your own landlord.

TERMS—$100 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

Fourth Parcel at 4.15 O'Clock
Cottage house and about 1315 square feet of land at No. 6 West Burnside Avenue.

This house has six rooms, three on the first floor and three on the second floor. The rooms are airy and well lighted, conveniently laid out and lighted by gas; there is a good cellar and the house is in excellent condition inside and out and rents for $120 a year. The lot which has an area of about 1315 square feet, is all fenced in, there is a large shed on the rear of the lot, and there are grape vines, rose bushes, and several shrubberries.

TERMS—$150 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

Fifth Parcel at 4.45 O'Clock
Cottage house and about 1282 square feet of land at No. 5 West Burnside Avenue.

Here is a cozy little home which will accommodate a good sized family, and when you are out for a walk look it up.

TERMS—$150 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

The above five parcels of real estate are all located in Centralville. They are always rented as there is a great demand for cottages in this section of the city, and they will certainly prove a good investment to either the home seeker or speculator, and they will be sold on their several premises on the day and hour advertised regardless of weather conditions to whomsoever will bid the most for them.

A good liberal mortgage can remain on each parcel.

GENERAL DIAZ

Arrived at Vigo, Spain, Today

VIGO, Spain, June 15.—General Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, arrived in the harbor today on the steamer Ypiranga on which he sailed from Vera Cruz, Mexico, on May 31. The steamer anchored in the bay at 6:30 o'clock this morning.

According to such of his plans as were made public prior to his departure from Mexico, General Diaz will continue to Havre, France, later returning to Spain for an indefinite stay. Last night's cable despatches from Vigo stated that members of the progressive party and workmen were organizing an unfriendly demonstration against Diaz in the event that he landed. The Mexican minister to Portugal is at Vigo to receive his former chief.

Guardian's Sale of Real Estate at Public Auction

Saturday, June 17, 1911, at 2.30 P. M.

THE GEORGE C. BARON PROPERTY SITUATED IN TYNGSBORO, MASS., ON VARNUM AVE., AND THE STATE HIGHWAY, OPPOSITE THE VESPER COUNTRY CLUB.

By virtue of a license granted to me by the probate court for the county of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, dated May 26, 1911, I shall sell at public auction on the premises in Tyngsboro, in said county on Saturday, June 17, 1911, at 2.30 o'clock p. m., the following described real estate, a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in Tyngsboro, containing 10 acres more or less, being all of the premises east of the state highway conveyed to George C. Baron by Lucy A. Littlehale by deed, dated May 29, 1908 and recorded with the Middlesex North district deed book 423, page 423, the strip of land between the westerly line of state highway and the river having been conveyed in 1908 to the Vesper Country Club. This piece of real estate is situated about four miles from Lowell, Mass., about two miles from Tyngsboro bridge has a frontage of about 350 feet on Varnum avenue, the main road from Lowell and a frontage of about 250 feet on the state highway. The house and barn are new, having been built about two years. The house is of the bungalow style and has six large square rooms on the main floor with a large storage room above. There is a high peaked cellar under the entire building that has a solid mortar wall from the very bottom, and the cellar is fully 10 feet in depth, with good light, with a door that leads to the yard on the ground level. The first floor consists of a large reception hall, with parlor, dining room and two chambers leading from it, with a kitchen in the rear with a large pantry with sink, pump and plenty of closet room. There is a toilet on this floor. There is a front and a back piazza that make it very pleasant. The house is steam heated, radiators in every room. The barn is a one story and a half structure, has stalls for 2 horses, stanchions for 3 cows, hay loft, large roomy carriage house, harness room and a long open carriage house attached. There is a good hen house and other out buildings. There is one of the best wells of water on the place, in the state, with a pump in the pantry.

A more beautiful spot for a permanent or a summer home would be hard to find, where it is easy to reach, either by electric or steam cars. The steam cars stop at the Country Club bridge. The electric car fare is five cents to the bridge from Lowell and is but a short walk from the bridge. The location and the pleasant view of the surrounding country is hard to equal. The buildings are set back from Varnum avenue, on the highest point of ground, commanding a most magnificent view of the Merrimack river. The steam cars winding on the westerly side of the river to the north, the state highway on the east and the wide river in the center, together with the rolling country and its banks of green foliage until your eye reaches the beautiful colonial residence of the Brindley estate. The Country Club on the old Tyngs Island lies a little to the southwest. Willow Dale, Lakeview and Long pond, summer pleasure parks are within 10 minutes' drive. So you see what we have to offer and will sell to the highest bidder this newly built country home, and if you feel that you are interested, come and see it. You will be pleased even if you do not buy.

Terms of sale: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price must be secured to the auctioneer when the property is struck off. Other terms of sale: Per order, JOHN F. HALL, Guardian GEORGE C. BARON.

Fair tonight, probably followed by showers Saturday afternoon or night; light westerly winds.

A SWEEPING DENIAL

Philip Holland Denies Bribery Story Told by Fred Snow

SALEM, June 16.—A sweeping denial of the charges made against him in the Lawrence graft case was made by Philip Holland, one of the indicted Lawrence contractors at the resumption of the so-called "graft" case in the Essex county superior criminal court today.

Mr. Holland paid particular attention to the statements of Fred Snow, another contractor, who turned state's evidence and was on the stand while the side of the prosecution was being heard. The defense called also William Merritt, manager of a New York theatre, to show that Street Commissioner Lyman, to whom Snow said he gave $1000 was in New York on the day in question. Mr. Merritt testified that Lyman's name was entered on his visiting book at the theatre that day. He admitted that Mr. Lyman did not write the name and the jury was sent out while the admissibility of the visiting list was argued by counsel.

SIXTY SENATORS FOR SHEDD PARK

To Vote For Canadian Reciprocity Mayor Wants Council to Vote $10,000

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Chairman Penrose of the senate finance committee, in conference with President Taft today, confirmed the report that sixty senators are expected to vote for Canadian reciprocity and predicted that within two weeks a date for a vote would be agreed on. He gave the president a detailed report of the situation in the senate and declared the bill would be passed without amendment. Later Mr. Penrose issued a formal statement in which he said:

"A careful canvass of the senate shows that sixty members or substantially two-thirds of the senate are in favor of the reciprocity bill and more than that number will be opposed to the Reciprocity bill. The bill will be passed at an early date without amendment. It will be well if it is passed before the Canadian parliament reassembles the latter part of July.

"The probabilities are that the wool bill will reach the senate in a few days, and the finance committee will be called together for the purpose of considering the wool bill and the so-called free list bill. It is well understood that the tariff board has been hard at work investigating the wool schedule and will be ready to report next December. It is not reasonable therefore, to expect that the republican majority in the senate will take up the wool bill until the tariff board report shall have been received.

"The free list bill opens up a wide range of tariff discussion and the finance committee is in receipt of numerous requests from all over the country asking for hearings on the numerous schedules of that bill."

The water board will also meet at 8 o'clock tonight and the appropriations committee at the same hour. The water board will have something to say in reply to the criticism to which it was subjected in the board of aldermen on Tuesday night.

BROKE INTO STORE

BOY THEN BECAME SCARED AND PLANNED TO ESCAPE

CHELSEA, June 16.—Fear of being detected after breaking into a mill store led Edward Lynch, 14 years old, to take himself to a chair, place a gag around his head, saturate his clothing with kerosene and start a fire nearby in order to make the police believe that he had been lured into the building. Young Lynch's cries for help brought the police to the building early today, but when the boy was taken to the station and given a rigid examination he confessed and said that after breaking into the office he became afraid of the consequences.

MANY APPLICANTS

OR PERMIT TO SELL FIREWORKS FOR THE FOURTH

Despite the fact that we have been enjoying all kinds of weather during the past few weeks and the majority of the city have been reminded us of the fact that the Fourth of July is near at hand. Many people have realized that the holiday is but a few weeks away and during the past several days Chief Hosmer's office at the Central fire station has been flooded with persons applying for permits to sell fireworks.

All who desire to sell fireworks will have to make an application to the chief of fire which the premises are investigated and then if everything is in conformity with the regulations made by the detective and fire inspection department of the district police the license will be issued.

Those who make application are requested to produce a half dollar and after the premises where the license is applied for has been inspected and no offense is granted the money is returned to the petitioner.

SHOOT AN OFFICER

Man Then Turned the Weapon On Himself

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 16.—After arresting Joseph Ploof on a warrant charging some minor offense, Police Officer Miles of this city was shot by his captive. Ploof then shot himself twice through the breast. Both men were taken to the hospital in a serious condition. It is believed that Ploof will recover but the policeman's chances were considered doubtful.

Ploof was arrested in his lodgings on Ward street. After making the arrest Police Officer Miles started down the stairs. Ploof, following behind, reached the street where Ploof drew a revolver from his pocket, shot the officer in the back and then inflicted two bullet wounds on himself.

A STILL ALARM

A still alarm at 9 o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in a house at 63 Branch street owned by John Turner and occupied by Mrs. Ober. Employees of the Lowell Gas Light Co. were making a connection when in some unaccountable manner the gas became ignited. Word was sent to the Branch street engine house and the men were on the scene and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before much damage was done.

PARKS OR COMMONS

Cannot be Used as Drill Grounds by Local Militia

Some time ago the committee on military affairs asked the opinion of the city solicitor as to whether any park or common in the city could be used as a drill ground by the local military companies. The solicitor gave his opinion today. It reads as follows:

Office of City Solicitor, Lowell, Mass., June 16, 1911. Committee on Military Affairs, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen:—I have your communication requesting my opinion as to whether any park or common in the city of Lowell may be used as a drill ground by the local military companies.

So far as parks established under the provisions of section 1 to 14 of chapter 28 of the Revised Laws are concerned, no such use is permissible, as by section 12 of said act military encampments, parades, drills, reviews and all other military exercises are prohibited, and military bodies may not even enter such parks without the consent of the park commission. The bare right to enter without the privilege of performing their manoeuvres would of course be no practical value to the companies.

With regard to all other parks and commons, it appears from investigation that the things required to be done for the purpose of successfully performing the various military exercises are of such a nature as to result in possible permanent injury to the land. Among other things trenches must be dug, embankments thrown up and trees cut down. Such things are of course contrary to the uses for which public parks are established and clearly cannot be permitted.

Even though there be no danger of injury to the land, still, since parks exist only for the benefit of the public as a whole, and not for any particular class, uses which restrict in any way the public right are, in my opinion, unlawful.

Very truly yours,
Wm. W. Duncan,
City Solicitor.

BAD MONEY WAS USED

Counterfeit $10 Bills Have Been Handed Out in This City

All people who are fortunate enough to be able to carry greenbacks in their pockets want to beware of counterfeit bills. Recently several "phoney" $1 bills were passed on local merchants and rejected when brought to the bank. Now there is a $10 counterfeit bill in circulation and the banks are sending out warnings to their depositors and the police have taken the matter in hand in an attempt to capture the men who are presenting the bills. The police would like to get the people who pointed the bills, but in all probability they do their work many miles from Lowell.

The counterfeit bill in question is what is known as the "Buffalo $10 Bill," the legitimate bill having been a series issued in connection with the exposition held at Buffalo, N. Y. The bill bears a likeness of a buffalo's head and the check letter is "D." No. 521 issued (according to the marks) under the legal tender acts of 1862-63.

IN POLICE COURT

Men Accused of Assault Acquitted

Joseph H. Conlon and Daniel J. Donahue, who were arrested Tuesday afternoon on complaints charging them with drunkenness and assault, appeared in court this morning, the case having been brought up on continuance and at the conclusion of the hearing the two defendants were found not guilty of assault and battery but having admitted that they were drunk were fined. Conlon was fined $5 and Donahue was fined $2.

Both men appeared in court yesterday morning and according to the testimony offered by witnesses the men had assaulted and robbed an unknown man in Third street. Two clerks in the Putnam & Son company's store told of a conversation that they had with the man who it is alleged was assaulted and robbed, but they were unable to tell his name.

This morning a man who gave his name as John Kelly testified that he was in a liquor saloon in Central street and got "drunk" for 55 cents. He later saw the defendants in Third street and told them what had happened. He denied that either man assaulted him or that they robbed him. He said that they had nothing to do with the taking of the money.

After the court considered the evidence in the case he found the defendants not guilty on the complaint of assault, but as they had admitted they were drunk, fined Conlon $5 and Donahue $2.

Arrested on Suspicion

William Johnson was arrested on suspicion of larceny of a suit of clothes yesterday, but when he was brought before the court this morning, there was not sufficient testimony to convict him and inasmuch as the man had admitted that he had been drinking he was allowed to go his way after paying a fine of $1.

Johnson went to a second hand clothing store in Middlesex street yesterday and swapped a suit of clothes which he had for a cheaper suit and received some money in exchange. It was suspected that he had stolen the clothing and he was placed under arrest. He, however, explained to the satisfaction of the police that the clothes which he gave to the second hand store had been loaned to him and the court allowed him to escape with a $1 fine for drunkenness.

Albert Plante was charged with being drunk and he admitted that he had intubed last night. Deputy Downey informed the court that the man had been annoying persons in the vicinity of the textile school and the case was continued in order to allow the police to secure witnesses to testify to the man's actions.

Drunken Offenders

James F. Sheedy was arraigned on a complaint charging him with being drunk and a plea of guilty was entered. The court was informed that the man was on probation with Probation Officer Ramsey of the superior court and it was deemed advisable to confine the case until tomorrow in order to notify Mr. Ramsey.

Peter McLean, John Maroney, Maurice Callahan and James C. O'Laughlin were fined $5 each, and one first offender was fined $2.

LARCENY CHARGE

Men Accused of Stealing Hay

John H. O'Neil, aged 21 years, James H. Poole, aged 20 years, and Thomas J. Carroll, aged 17 years, while trying to perform the difficult task of carrying a bale of hay through Middlesex street today were apprehended by Officer Frank R. Ealy who questioned them and when they failed to give a satisfactory answer as to where they got the hay, sent them to the police station where they were booked for larceny.

The police are of the opinion that the hay fell from a car belonging to the Boston & Maine railroad which was stationed in the rear of the power house of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company.

The men were traveling through Middlesex street when the patrolman spied them and thinking it rather odd of the ordinary for three men to be carrying hay through the streets he questioned them and when their answers did not agree he sent them to the police station. The men under arrest claim that they found the hay.

NOTED PICKPOCKET

Arrested by Lieutenant Martin Maher at a Sideshow

Edward N. Travis, a self-confessed and notorious pickpocket who lives in the West End of Boston, was arrested by Lieut. Martin Maher of the criminal bureau of the local police, assisted by Inspector John Walsh, on the circus grounds last night. The capture was a clever one and reflects much credit on the lieutenant-detective.

As is usual when there is a circus or a big celebration in Lowell, Supt. Welch assigns his best men to keep tabs on the people who are apt to follow the circus.

Lieut. Maher with other officers, all being in plain clothes, visited the grounds yesterday afternoon and evening and besides visiting the different shows interspersed with the crowds, always being on the lookout for pickpockets.

About nine o'clock Lieut. Maher happened to be in one of the side shows and had been there but a short time when a man rushed up to him and said that he had been robbed by a man wearing a white handkerchief around his neck. Lieut. Maher made his way through the crowd and finally located the man but allowed the latter to go on his way but at the same time keeping him under surveillance.

As the man afterwards proved to be Travis, he was leaving the side show he was stopped by Lieut. Maher who questioned him relative to the alleged larceny. Travis at first denied that he was a wrongdoer and protested his innocence, but after he was told that he was going to be sent to the police station as a suspicious character, he admitted that he had robbed the man who complained to Lieut. Maher.

Travis was taken to the police station where he was booked as a suspicious person and later a complaint of larceny from the person was preferred against him.

Travis was questioned relative to the robbery and he admitted that he had searched the man's pocket and received the latter of some small change. He intimated that he was familiar with the law and said he would enter a plea of guilty if he would be let down "light."

It was found, upon investigation that Travis is a notorious pickpocket and has been arrested on numerous occasions and convicted and his likeness occupies a prominent position in the rogues' gallery in the police headquarters at Boston.

When queried as to why he came to this city he said that he was dead broke, down and out and wanted to collect some loose coin, but he admitted that it was a tough proposition to attempt to baffle the Lowell police. He said he had heard that the Lowell police were on the alert and had caught many pickpockets and that the law had been placed on Lowell, but thinking he might be able to gain something on circus day, he took a chance, but he was sorry he did so.

He was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with attempting to steal money from an unknown person and after pleading guilty was sentenced to four months in the House of Correction at Cambridge.

After receiving his sentence he was fingerprinted.

TWELVE INJURED

By the Collapse of a Wall

NEW YORK, June 16.—A wall of a three story store and loft building under construction at 168th street and Boston road, the Bronx, collapsed yesterday afternoon when 25 bricklayers and laborers were at work there.

A score of them were carried down and buried beneath a mass of bricks, mortar and timbers. Policemen, firemen and volunteer citizens dug frantically to get them out. It was believed for a time many had been killed.

Scrap was killed outright it developed, although two received severe fractures of their skulls and will probably die. Ten others were hurt more or less painfully, though none of those is in a serious condition.

Coroner Schanckneke declared "poor construction" was responsible for the collapse. Inspector James Wilson, of the building department, said that, in addition, the floors were greatly over-loaded with bricks and mortar.

Part of the work on the building already had been held up because the builders were using girders of too light weight.

Superintendent of Buildings Henderson, however, declared the construction was all right, and said his department would stand by the builders.

Hot words passed between Schanckneke and Henderson. They almost came to blows, and each threatened the other with arrest before friends calmed them.

Two Placed Under Arrest
Max Kroll, superintendent of the job, and Paolo Cazzaro, boss bricklayer, were arrested.

Because the building department had ordered a cessation of work on the front of the structure, because of the light girders, all the men on the job yesterday were putting up the north wall or adding to it.

The wall went down with a loud crash and an enormous cloud of dust, carrying off the roof of the building. A trolley car was passing and the passengers almost became panic stricken. Among them were Patrolman Jeremiah Murphy of the bridge squad, and Dr. J. D. Deane of 1018 Tinton avenue, the Bronx.

The physician went to see what he could do, while the policeman sent in plans.

Only two men were in sight and they were clinging by their finger tips to a lofty beam. Neighbors climbed up and hauled these men to safety first.

In a few moments all the alarms had been responded to, and more than one hundred policemen and firemen were tearing away at the debris, unearthing a workman every minute or so.

DIPLOMAS AWARDED

Graduation Exercises Held at the Howe School in Billerica

The graduation exercises of the Howe high school in Billerica were held yesterday afternoon in the town hall and ten members of the class of 1911 received diplomas. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends of the members of the graduating class, together with former pupils and townspeople.

At the alumni meeting held in the banquet hall appropriate exercises were held. A reception and dance took place during the evening.

The interior of the hall was decorated in an artistic manner. Laurel and other floral decorations made the hall a bower of beauty, while on the stage there were potted plants and flowers. The members of the senior class together with their instructors, Eugene C. Vining, Misses Ada Mudge and Ethel Kelley, and Rev. Charles H. Williams, pastor of the North Billerica Baptist church, occupied seats on the stage.

Those who received diplomas were: Isabel Mae Holt, Tricetta Alexine Crosby, William Merrill Carr, Gladys Dorothy Corkum, Kathryn Nelson, Ralph Durgin Wright, Ethel Mae Corson, James Henry Hayes, John Joseph Lyons, Ralph William Messer.

The program of the exercises was as follows:

The officers chosen by the alumni following the banquet were: President, T. Frank Lyons, J. Frank Casey, Otis S. Brown, Warren L. Floyd, Charles A. Kohlrausch, J. Nelson Parker, John A. Hutcheson, Warren A. Hanson, Miss Florence Ruth, Thomas H. Bateson, Mrs. Mary L. Jacobs, Miss Grace N. Wilkins, Miss Bertha Dimock and William M. Carr.

There were over 100 seated at the banquet tables, among them being George Ordway, who attended the Howe school 24 years ago. Mr. Ordway is at present a resident of Iowa and is now visiting with relatives in this section.

The exercises were opened by John A. Richardson, the retiring president, and encouraging reports were read by the secretary and treasurer. Herbert A. King reported for the nominating committee and the above mentioned officers were unanimously elected.

Brief speeches were made by J. Frank Casey, head master of the English high school of Boston, a Howe school graduate; T. P. Lyons, the new president of the association; Eugene G. Vining, principal of the school; Misses Ada Mudge and Ethel Kelley; teachers; Miss Isabel Holt, president of the graduating class; William L. Bull, Alex. H. Mitchell, principal of the Mitchell Boys' school; Dr. A. W. Stearns, selectman; Thomas F. Sheridan, Colman S. Smith, Rev. J. Harold Dale, Charles H. Kohlrausch, J. Nelson Parker of the trustees of the school, and Mrs. S. A. Bull.

The reception then followed in the upper hall until 10 o'clock, after which dancing was enjoyed until nearly midnight. Music for the occasion was furnished by Hibbard's orchestra.

BIG FIELD DAY In Aid of St. Mary's Parish

What promises to be a banner event in the history of Collinsville will take place tomorrow afternoon and evening, the occasion being the field day and social which is to be held at Rectory Side grove under the auspices of St. Mary's parish. Rev. Thomas A. Walsh, the pastor of the church, and the committee in charge of the arrangements for the affair, have been hustling night and day and those who attend will be well repaid for the program is one which will not fail to please the most exacting person.

The grounds which adjoin the church will be decorated in an attractive manner and the weather man has given his assurance that the sun will shine during the afternoon and that the moon will be out at night. Taking into consideration together with the fact that the electric cars pass the entrance to the grounds every five minutes, it goes without saying that there will be a large attendance.

During the afternoon there will be a ball game between a picked team from Lynn and the strong Beaver Brook aggregation. The game will start promptly at 2 o'clock in order that all may witness the baby contest which is to be held between 3 and 4 o'clock. The prizes for the baby show will be the best ever offered in this vicinity and the "mothers' darlings" under the age of two years who are the prettiest, most strenuous, smallest and largest, will receive prizes.

A fine program of sports has been arranged for the afternoon and in the evening there will be an entertainment, concert and dancing.

PECULIAR CASE Stepfather Is Grandfather of Same Man

BOSTON, June 16.—If your mother divorced your father and married his father, thus making a stepfather of your grandfather, what is your position of relationship in this family mix-up?

Walter Fenley has come to Boston to settle an estate thus involved through complicated relationships. The story begins some 26 years ago when Edward Fenley, son of Thomas Fenley of Woonsocket, R. I., brought back a little girl from the Quaker city as his wife. The young wife immediately won the love of her father-in-law and the older man, a widower, paid frequent visits to the home of his son.

After a year, during which time the couple had one child, Walter, born to them, Mrs. Fenley secured a divorce from her husband. Almost immediately her father-in-law sought her hand in marriage, and after a few months the two were wed. To further complicate matters the divorced husband married another woman.

For some years the child, Walter, was brought up by his mother and the stepfather-grandfather. In March, 1910, the elder Fenley died, at the age of 73 years, while his wife was 47 years of age. He left the bulk of his property, which amounted to $100,000, to his wife and her child.

Immediately the children by his first marriage instituted proceedings claiming his second wife had married him solely for his fortune and had influenced him to make out his will in favor of herself and her son.

For some time the matter has been fought in the courts of Rhode Island and Pennsylvania, but a decree was never made.

Finally it devolved upon the youngest member of the family, Walter, to settle matters out of court. He is in Boston now in the attempt to accomplish this, and he said last night that the various relatives were willing to settle the case with his mother for a substantial amount of money. He has not yet determined whether or not he will give up that amount to settle a case which will finally determine his own status regarding his several relatives, and also the position of the children of his divorced father if there be any born of his last marriage.

INDIAN MEDICINES

Said to Have Been Given Mrs. Bull Against Her Will

ALFRED, Me., June 15.—A new witness, Frances Kelley of Cambridge, who was employed both at Greenacre and in Studio house at Cambridge as a cook for Mrs. Bull, gave additional evidence about the Indian medicines alleged to have been given Mrs. Bull against her will by Miss Margaret Noble at today's session of the probate court, in which is being heard the contest against the will of the late Mrs. Sarah C. Bull. The witness first met Mrs. Bull in September, 1908, when she entered her employment at Greenacre. The relations between Mrs. Bull and her daughter then were very affectionate. She told of the different people, including the followers of the strange Hindu religion, who were with Mrs. Bull at Elliot and who passed the winter of 1908 at Studio house. Among these were Dr. and Mrs. Bose of India, Miss Sarah J. Farmer, Miss Margaret Noble, Albert H. Stevens, Nicola Roberto, Swami Parmananda, and many other people who came at times during the winter. Many receptions were held. A party of 12 or 13 boys from India were entertained in Studio house by Dr. Bose and wife.

The witness testified that she saw Miss Noble prepare the India medicine for Mrs. Bull during her sickness, the medicine which Dr. Reid had forbidden. She said Miss Noble would come into the kitchen at noon daily and mix the medicine, which came in stick form, with honey. It turned to a red shade. She never saw it given Mrs. Bull, but at one time she heard Mrs. Bull complain and object to taking it. She saw Miss Noble have two kinds of medicine, one of which was a dark brown fluid. She saw no other kind and understood both were Indian medicines. She testified that after taking the medicines Mrs. Bull's feet and hands became swollen and her eyes bulged. She looked very strange. The witness noticed the change a week after the medicine was first administered. Miss Noble, she stated, continued to mix the medicine after she had noticed the changed condition of the patient.

On the occasion of Mrs. Bull's objection to taking the medicine she heard Mrs. Bull exclaim: "No, no, I can't take it." Miss Noble replied, she testified: "Well, you can take it by and by."

ACTOR ARRESTED

Is Charged With Shooting Ball Player

ALBANY, N. Y., June 16.—First Baseman Arthur Brown of the Albany team of the New York State Baseball league died last night in a hospital from four bullet wounds inflicted, he told the police, by John V. McStea, a New Orleans actor. The shooting occurred at a rooming house on Pearl street, where McStea said he found his wife in an apartment with Brown.

McStea arrived in Albany last night, and proceeded directly to the house, where he asked to see Mrs. Brown. In a statement made after the shooting he said he heard his wife's voice upstairs and rushed to the hall above. When he entered the room, he said, he was brutally attacked by Brown, while his wife cowered in one corner.

Getting the worst of the struggle, McStea says, he drew his revolver and fired at Brown. Four shots took effect, two in the abdomen, one in the arm, another in the leg, and a fifth went wild. Brown sank to the floor, where he was found an instant later by an officer who heard the shots from the street. McStea was placed under arrest, and his wife is being held as a witness.

Brown's home is in Wilkesbarre, Penn., where he was born 28 years ago. He started his professional baseball career with the Wilkesbarre club of the New York State league. He later played with the Detroit American league team, Montreal Eastern league club and the Trenton Tri-State league team, from which he was purchased by Albany two years ago. His playing yesterday was a feature of the Albany-Scranton game.

DIVORCE COURT

SEVEN JUSTICES TO PRESIDE BECAUSE OF NUMBER OF CASES

BOSTON, June 16.—Seven justices of the superior court will hear divorce cases all next week. This circumstance, unprecedented in Massachusetts and probably in the United States or elsewhere, was announced yesterday by Chief Justice Aiken.

In order to assign such a large number of judges to the divorce court work it has been necessary to adjourn all jury sessions of the superior court two weeks earlier than usual.

Judge Dana, who has been presiding in the first jury session, will adjourn his sitting today and will be ready to start in on the regular divorce session Monday. Other jury sessions will be adjourned for the summer on Monday and then six judges will be assigned to the work of assisting Judge Dana clear up the June docket of divorce trials. These judges will be: Judges Fessenden, Brown, White, DeCourcy, Quinn and Sherman. They will sit in the sessions where juries have usually been found.

When the June divorce session was to have come in last Monday it was found that Judge Richardson's illness required the presence of Judge Hitchcock in the equity division of the superior court and the divorce session was postponed until next Monday. There are 100 uncontested and 52 contested cases on the list, and it is thought that with all the seven justices at work the task of clearing up the docket will be finished in a week.

Latest music, tonight, No. Billerica.

TUNNEL ELEVATORS

BOSTON ELEVATED MUST STAND THE COST OF THEM

BOSTON, June 16.—The Boston Elevated Railway company and not the city of Boston must pay for the elevators, and machinery for running the same, at the Atlantic Avenue station of the East Boston tunnel, according to a ruling by Judge Fessenden yesterday in the Suffolk superior court. The city was required to build the tunnel by the act of the 1887 legislature and the work was placed under the direction of the Boston Transit Commission. The ruling requires the Elevated to pay $44,450, the cost of constructing the elevator system, and interest since 1904, making a total of $51,612.50.

The act of the legislature required the Elevated to equip the tunnel after it was constructed. In 1904 the city and the company disagreed on the question whether the elevator system was a part of the tunnel or its equipment and an agreement was entered into whereby the city installed the system with the understanding that the matter would be decided by the court later. "This was done so that the public would not be delayed in its use of the tunnel station elevators during litigation, which might cover a long period."

RACE WITH TRAIN

HORSE IN WILD NIGHT DASH ON TRACKS

BOSTON, June 16.—A horse running wild without harness raced in front of a train for a half mile over the tracks of the Lexington branch of the Boston & Maine railroad early yesterday, and succeeded in staying ahead until it reached a point where it could leave the tracks.

The horse appeared in Davis square, running at great speed, shortly after midnight. At this point it passed on to the railroad tracks at the West Somerville station.

WILLING TO WED

BY THIS MEANS A MAN ESCAPES SENTENCE

BOSTON, June 16.—Willingness to marry secured probation on a robbery charge for Fred Sawyer of the South End, in the superior court yesterday. Sawyer had pleaded guilty to a charge of robbing George W. Wheeler of a watch fob, a satchel and two quarts of whiskey on a street in the South End. As he sat in the prisoner's cage awaiting sentence Probation Officer Keefe told the court that Sawyer had been living for several weeks with a woman as man and wife.

"That is a bad feature of the case," Mr. Keefe said. "Up to a year ago he was an industrious, sober man, but then he took to drinking and has later gone to living with this woman. But I believe that they are both willing to marry."

"I will not advise his marriage to her," said Judge Stevens. "But if he does marry her I will put his case on probation." Then to the prisoner he said: "Do you wish to marry this woman?"

"She wants me and none other and I want no other," replied the prisoner with a glad smile.

So Judge Stevens put his case on probation, instructing Mr. Keefe to bring him in for sentence if he did not marry the woman.

ASKS DIVORCE

ONLY WOMAN BALL TEAM OWNER ENTERS ACTION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 16.—Suit for divorce was begun by Mrs. Schuyler Britton here yesterday. Mrs. Britton is the owner of the St. Louis National League Baseball club and is the only woman owner of a major league ball team in the country.

Mrs. Britton, who stands high in Cleveland society, accused her husband of cruelty. Mr. Britton is out of the city and his friends profess ignorance of his whereabouts. He is president of the Britton Printing company and has other large business interests.

Mrs. Britton is a niece of the late Stanley Robison, who owned the St. Louis Cardinals, and she still occupies the palatial Robison home on the Lake Shore Boulevard. The couple have two children, a girl of 10 years and a boy of 8. It was rumored that Mrs. Britton had been to Cincinnati recently with her husband, but she declared last night she had not seen him for some time.

"I do not care to discuss my divorce petition," she said. "I have not seen my husband lately, and I have not been to Cincinnati or any other place with him."

Mr. and Mrs. Britton have lived apart for the past few months. It is not generally known in society that there had been trouble between the two, and the filing of the divorce petition yesterday came as a great surprise to their friends.

THEO. M. I. CADETS

Will Go Into Camp at
Milligan's Grove

The annual tour of camp duty for the O. M. I. Cadets will be held at Milligan's grove, Wilmington, either the last week of July or the first week, and it is probable that the camp will last for two weeks. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I. chaplain of the cadets, this morning secured an option on the grove for the two weeks, and what promises to be the greatest encampment of boys that ever took place in New England is being arranged. The details are being looked after by the military instructor, Lieut. Bernard McArdle, and he will have two West Point men on the field during the entire time that the boys are in camp, to help in their military instruction and to watch the military movements. There will be three hundred boys in camp and the rules that govern the conduct of regular troops in camp will be enforced. Tents will be pitched the Saturday before the cadets go into camp, so that everything will be in readiness when the young soldiers reach the grove. The contract for feeding the boys will be awarded to a local caterer. The physical instructor of the cadets, Police Officer Mat McCann, will be on hand to give them plenty of exercise, and there will be a ladies' day, officers' day, and guests' day, which will be the big day of the camp, as it is expected that on this day there will be a number of people from out of town present to witness the drill and the sports in which the cadets will take part. The cadets will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Immaculate Conception school hall to make arrangements for the affair.

SENSATIONAL OFFER

Can you afford the luxury of an extra suit, if you are able to buy that extra suit of clothes at a price you often paid for a pair of trousers?

The story—The spring rush is over in the tailoring business. The cream is gone. My fight now is not to make profit. My fight now is to make no loss during the dull season.

I am choked with woollens—woollens that cost me good money. Contract requirements compel me to take these goods from certain mills under conditions or I will lose those mills and some of my advantages during the busy season.

I have to turn these goods into money while they are seasonable. Next month everybody will be marking down, but next month there will be no market worthy of the name. I mark down this month—now, today, when you need clothing and when the mark-down means something to you.

Look^o up and down this city and see what the suit you like brings in other stores, then come to me and see if you don't make an actual bona-fide saving of anything from $7 up in real, actual money.

SENT TO PENITENTIARY

MONTREAL, June 16.—"Guilty" was the verdict rendered today in the case of Charles D. Sheldon, charged with appropriating to his own use funds given him by various clients for investment. A sentence of five years in the penitentiary was imposed immediately. The judgment was rendered by Judge Langeller, who had conducted the trial in the court of special sessions. Charles D. Sheldon first appeared in first clients attracted in the venture were given large returns for their money and became themselves great advertising factors for the supposed "wizard of finance." The amount of business turned over by Sheldon became so great that he had to vacate the rather unpretentious office he was occupying on a side street and take up a large suite on St. James street.

His advertisements, however, became so bold that newspapers, convinced that his methods were not what he represented them to be, challenged the "wizard" to throw open his books. His departure on October 11 created consternation among his depositors, the larger part of whom were widows and people in straitened circumstances.

On March 27 he was apprehended in Pittsburgh by C. R. Hatfield, private detective, and William Elmore of the Pittsburgh city detective force. Immediately following his arrest Chief McCaswell of the provincial detective force was notified and proceeded to bring Sheldon back to Montreal.

WAS CLERK OF COURT

BROCKTON, June 18.—The man sentenced to imprisonment in Montreal today under the name of Charles D. Sheldon admitted to the police after his arrest in Pittsburgh last March that his real name was Charles W. Robinson and that he was formerly a resident of Brockton. While here Sheldon, or Robinson, who is a native of Sandwich, Mass., conducted a stock brokerage business and was for a part of the time clerk of the police court. He disappeared in 1890 and almost simultaneously he was indicted on charges of having forged notes to the amount of about $200,000. Later, under the name of Charles R. Wilson, Robinson lived in Norwood, R. I., where he was principal of a grammar school and in 1900 and 1901 taught school in Tiverton, R. I. In 1903 he visited Brockton and called on Judge Lloyd E. Chamberlain, whom he asked if prosecution would follow should he return to Brockton to live. Judge Chamberlain advised him that he would be prosecuted and Robinson again disappeared. Local acquaintances and the local police then lost all track of him until his arrest in Pittsburgh.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

The following marriage intentions were registered at the city clerk's office since the last were published:
Arthur Coutt, 31, operative, 740 Merrimack street, and Flora Lesage, 27, operative, same address.
Joseph Gordon Greener, 27, carpenter, 31 Methuen street, and Sarah Littlefield, 23, hosiery, Waverlet, Mass.
Pantelis Farfara, 21, operative, 523 Market street, and Aspasia Deron, 22, operative, Peabody, Mass.
Francis Leo Rosenberger, 19, candy maker, Cambridge, Mass., and Ruth Graham, 18, at home, 174 Broadway.

LOCAL NEWS

The neatness and despatch with which the circus people pulled up stakes and went away was the subject of a very interesting discussion in the street today. A school master who remained on the grounds to witness the folding of the tents said that the work of the circus people was neatness and quickness personified. He said he left the grounds at 11:45 o'clock and every stake had been removed. The last load of the circus paraphernalia was on the way to the freight yard at that time.

The game of "rummy" continues to stick close to the heart of man in Lowell. A lawyer who played it yesterday afternoon to pass away the time became so absorbed that he took the game to bed with him. He played it in his dreams and while running under the pillow his wife called to him and said: "What are you doing?" "I am looking for the six of spades," he said and then he woke up. His good frau told him that if he didn't stop looking for spades she'd go scouting for a club.

The picnic of the Holy Name society, junior branch, of St. Patrick's church will be held one week from Tuesday at Canobie Lake park and the affair promises to be one of the most successful ever held by the society. A meeting of the members will be held in the school hall in Suffolk street Sunday morning.

The exhibition of manual training work of the grammar grades attracted a large attendance to the Whittier house in Worthen street this afternoon. The work of the pupils will be on exhibition tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Letourneau, Moody St., Lowell, Mass.

Madam:—We have decided to accept your offer of 51 per cent. on the dollar for the list of goods bought by I. S. Farland of Riverside, Ill., per itemized account mailed to you on request.

One of the reasons why we have departed from our previous custom is that the market is low at present, and again because your cash offer is very acceptable at this time of the year. Again we have taken into consideration the fact, that the above firm had paid 20 per cent. on assortments of beds, National springs, stoves, chairs, tables, buffets, bureaux, art squares, mattresses, baby carriages, mirrors, sideboards as per statement on which you thereby benefit by the above credit.

This should, per your letter, give you one of the best bargains for your anniversary sale, and no doubt one of the greatest sales of cut prices ever given in your city.

We wish to thank you for this first account, and hope to be able to give you some good bargains in the future, although we must say not at as low a price.

Yours Respectfully,

Die. M. S.

MAN FOUND STARVING

WILLIAM D. HANLEY.

William D. Hanley Wandered 56 Days a Swamp

MARLBORO, June 16.—After spending 56 days of helplessness in the swamp between Marlboro and Westboro, during which he says he did not have anything to eat, William D. Hanley, one of the most prominent young men in this city, was found emaciated and barely conscious, in the heart of the swamp, by four employees of the Metropolitan water works yesterday. He was in a terrible state of exhaustion, but was able to recognize his brother, John J. Hanley, and to ask after his father and his wife, whom he married last October, when he was 20.

Hanley's disappearance April 20 caused a sensation. No reason could be given except that he had been suffering from trouble with his head since an attack of the grip, and this it is thought may have unbalanced him. Hanley could give no explanation last night after he had gained enough strength to talk. He said he had wandered into the swamp, that he had occasionally seen persons pass but that for some reason he could not explain, he had been unable to call them. Most of the time, he said, he had spent lying upon the wet ground, drenched in his overcoat, soaked by the heavy showers and chilled by the night air. He says he had nothing to eat during all the time of his disappearance, but Mrs. Harvey A. Gilmore, wife of a farmer living on the outskirts of the swamp, thinks he must have milked some of their cows pastured nearby, although she says she had missed no milk, and that she had not seen him in the neighborhood.

In the effort to find Hanley, militia companies were called out, and fraternal societies, school boys and citizens organized large searching parties. All efforts, however, were fruitless. Hanley was traced as far as White's Corner, where he left an electric car and there trace was lost. Circulars were sent all over the country by the police and by the Knights of Columbus and the Foresters in which orders Hanley was prominent, but not a clue could be found.

Late yesterday employees of the Metropolitan Water Works saw footprints in the mud by the roadside, the steps led into the swamp and following the heavy showers and chilled by the night air. He says he had nothing to eat during all the time of his disappearance, but Mrs. Harvey A. Gilmore, wife of a farmer living on the outskirts of the swamp, thinks he must have milked some of their cows pastured nearby, although she says she had missed no milk, and that she had not seen him in the neighborhood.

In the effort to find Hanley, militia companies were called out, and fraternal societies, school boys and citizens organized large searching parties. All efforts, however, were fruitless. Hanley was traced as far as White's Corner, where he left an electric car and there trace was lost. Circulars were sent all over the country by the police and by the Knights of Columbus and the Foresters in which orders Hanley was prominent, but not a clue could be found.

"Billy," he called. The young man looked up and smiled. He murmured his brother's name and with a flash of returning vitality asked after his wife and then his father. Dr. Kelley made a brief examination and found him in a bad condition. He was moved as quickly as possible to John Hanley's house, where it was stated that he had a fair chance of recovery.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM...it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, cloth-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Being specially influenced by this sermon, Mr. Stearns transcribed it into verse and this was the poem read yesterday afternoon. Votes of thanks were given the hostess, the poem's author and the grove managers. This was followed by a social hour.

The Baraca class of the First Baptist church held its regular monthly meeting in the vestry of the church last evening. Several matters pertaining to the class work were discussed.

ITCHING SKIN

Eczema and similar skin diseases rarely cure themselves, but grow worse from week to week until the sufferer is nearly driven mad with intense irritation. Don't waste time taking internal medicines. Get a 10c box of Cadum, the new medical compound, and apply it immediately. The itching will stop at once, and a great improvement will be noticed overnight. People who have itched and scratched for years find sleep and rest soon after Cadum is applied. Cadum is also for pimples, rash, blotches, ulcers, eruptions, scaly skin, chafing, piles, etc.

and after the meeting strawberry shortcake was served under the direction of Mr. Robert Friend, and phonograph selections were listened to through the courtesy of Mr. Haynes of the Colonial store.

WEPT IN COURT

COMPOSER HELD ON A CHARGE OF BIGAMY

BOSTON, June 16.—Both wives of Robert R. Jones, 26 years old, well known as "Bobby Jones," composer of many of the best song hits of Ward & McKays, faced him in the municipal court yesterday, and, charging him with bigamy, caused him to weep bitterly in the dock. He almost went into hysterics.

Jones married an actress in Ward & McKays' company, Miss May Jones, 18 years old, of Nashua, N. H. A despatch in a Boston paper a few days later, stating "Bobby Jones is in town with Mrs. Jones, with whom he recently eloped," caught the eye of the first wife, Mrs. Grace M. Jones, as she read the paper one morning at breakfast in Cleveland, O., her home. She decided that if "Bobby" could give sporty dinners at the Brewster here he could contribute a little to her support, so she took the next train for this city.

When she stepped on the stand yesterday her husband, who had not seen her for months, burst out crying and sobbed like a child, during the rest of the hearing, frequently hiding his head in his arms, and nearly collapsing several times.

Judge Parmenter placed a non-support charge against him on file, and on the bigamy charge, after hearing the evidence, found him guilty and continued the case for disposition until tomorrow, holding him in $500.

STATE SECRETARY

GETTING OUT BLANKS NEEDED UNDER NEW NOMINATION BILL

BOSTON, June 16.—Secretary of State Langtry is up to his neck in work preparing for the rush of applications for blanks under the new direct nomination bill, which will probably be signed by Governor Foss today.

There will be a loud call also at Mr. Langtry's office, and the blanks are being run off by the presses at top speed.

As soon as the bill is signed by the governor, the campaigners will get busy and the politicians will get the provisions of the bill down by heart, so there may be no slip-up when the day for filing arrives.

Under the new bill, filings will have to be made the latter part of August in some instances, and the voters from the middle of this month, out will be asked whom they are going to support.

CLASSY BANTAMS FERRO IS GUILTY BOMB EXPLODED

Delmont and Lee to Meet Tonight

Judging from the talk among the sports, this evening's meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club will draw the largest attendance of members in the history of the organization. A better bill could not be arranged, for the main bout brings together the two leading claimants for the bantam weight championship of the world, one of whom has not been seen east of Denver for a year and concerning whom the finest of reports have come from the west. Kid Lee has secured a decision over a boxer who got a draw with Jimmie Walsh, the world's champion while Al Delmont has boxed two draws with Walsh. Both boxers are reported to be in the pink of condition. The bout should be one of the fastest ever witnessed in Lowell, especially if the men agree to box straight Queensbury rules. Two fast preliminary bouts have been arranged and the program throughout is exceptionally attractive to the lover of good boxing. The management announces positively that none but bona fide members with membership cards will be admitted.

He Was Convicted of Manslaughter

BOSTON, June 16.—Carnello Ferro, who has been on trial for murder in the first degree in the superior criminal court at East Cambridge since Monday, was found guilty of manslaughter yesterday and will be sentenced today. The defendant was accused of shooting Antonio DeLellis in a boarding house at 16 Bishop street, South Framingham, and also with the murder of Raphael Surro at the same time and place. The jury retired at 4:05 p. m., went to supper and at 8:30 o'clock sent word to Judge Hardy for instructions. At 9 o'clock a verdict of manslaughter, with a plea for mercy, was reported. Judge Hardy then stated that Ferro would be sentenced today. Ferro, through an interpreter, said: "I want to be free. I am sick of being in jail. I shall commit suicide. I'll end my life before I'll go to prison." He was then taken back to jail. Ferro took the stand in his own behalf yesterday morning and despite a severe cross examination denied he fired the revolver. He declared the revolver produced in the trial was not his.

REPORT DENIED

THAT CASTRO IS ON THE GROUND

BERLIN, June 16.—George Grostuck, Ecuadorian consul at Berlin, who received the dismantled Haitian cruiser Patrice to the Haitian government, stated today that the whole story to the effect that Cipriano Castro, the exiled president of Venezuela, was aboard the craft which is now known as the Consul Grostuck, is a myth. Grostuck received a cable today announcing the arrival of the vessel at Port au Prince. He said that who was to be delivered to Haiti. He added that Castro while in the hospital here in 1930 had negotiated with him for the purchase of two ships, but these negotiations were broken off when the Venezuelan president was deposed. The Consul Grostuck arrived at Port au Prince yesterday, flying the Guatemalan flag, and the officials were warmly received by President Simon. Later it was officially denied that Castro was on the steamer.

LOST CHILDREN

WERE PICKED UP BY THE POLICE

That the circus is an attraction which is irresistible to the children goes without saying, and yesterday many youngsters strayed away from their homes. Some rose early and saw the unloading of the cars and then went to the fair grounds to witness the erection of the tents. Many youngsters took "French leave" from their homes to see the parade and as a result the telephone operator at the police station was kept busy answering inquiries for lost children. During the day eight children who got lost were taken to the fair grounds in which they were cared for until their parents were located.

In a Cable Conduit in Chicago

CHICAGO, June 16.—For the third time in a month an explosion occurred today in a cable conduit of the Commonwealth Edison Co. in the subway on a railway track. The blast shattered windows in buildings within a radius of a block and threw several families from their beds. The police believe the explosion was caused by a bomb set off by labor agitators. Officials of the Edison company, however, say they have had no recent trouble with their employees and are unable to solve the cause of the mysterious explosions.

WILLIAM B. YOHN.

and has resided there with his family ever since. Since 1845 he has resided in the same house, which he built for his own use. He has always been actively engaged in business, following pursuits that called for physical endurance and bravery, being at various times a miller, constable, deputy sheriff and auctioneer. Notwithstanding this vigorous life, he looks and feels as fine as his photo shows.

Mr. Yohn attributes a considerable part of the wonderful length of his life to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which has been consistently used by him whenever he felt the need of a tonic stimulant. In a letter to a friend recently he said, in part: "I was 101 years of age May 4th, having been born in 1810. For a good many years I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, with very fine results. I always felt much better and stronger after using it. I attribute my long life to the use of pure liquors taken moderately all my life. As a medicine I could recommend nothing better than Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."

When men and women pass the age of sixty they need a remedy that will quicken the circulation, bring restful sleep, invigorate the brain and prevent decay. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only agent that will produce these happy results. It improves the digestion and assimilation of the food and gives tone and vitality to every organ in the body.

It has been used with remarkable results in the prevention and cure of all throat, lung and stomach troubles and all wasting and diseased conditions. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children; makes the old feel young, and the young strong and vigorous; recognized as a family medicine and prescribed by physicians everywhere. Sold in sealed bottles only by all druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. Medical booklet, containing rare common-sense rules for health and testimonials, also doctor's advice, sent free to anyone who writes The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

YOUNT'S GREAT WORK

Pitched Finely and Started the Run Getting

Lowell and Fall River met at Spalding park again yesterday and despite the fact that it was expected, owing to the circus being the attraction here, there would be a small attendance at the game, there were 700 fans present.

It is very seldom that an umpire receives an ovation from the fans, but when Umpire Walsh stepped forth and announced the batteries of the different teams he was cheered and just for that he tipped his hat in a gentlemanly manner.

Touti, who was knocked out of the box in the first inning of Wednesday's game, was given another chance, Lavigne being on the receiving end of the battery. Haight was behind the bat for the visitors and Reiger was pitching.

Fred Reiger who was on the slab for the visitors yesterday allowed the opportunities of the game, there were 700 fans present.

PHILLIES' YOUNG TWIRLER WHO IS PITCHING FIND OF SEASON

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—Grover Alexander, the sensational pitcher who proved to be the pitching find of the young member of the local team, is the leading pitcher of the National league, with a record of ten games won and two lost. In twelve games but sixty-two hits have been made off his delivery. He has fanned eighty-one men out the circuit. And the fact that Burkett is fined without suspension calls to our mind the provisions of rule 61 relative to violations of rules in regard to players and umpires which reads: "In all cases of violations of these rules, by either player or manager (which takes in Burkett, however he is listed), the penalty shall be the prompt removal of the offender from the game and grounds, followed by a period of such suspension from actual service in the club as the president of the league may fix. In event of removal of player or manager by either umpire, he shall go direct to the club house and remain there during the progress of the game, or leave the grounds, and a failure to do so will warrant a forfeiture of the game by the umpire-in-chief."

Thus it would appear that Burkett has no luck coming over if he has been fined $100. Rule 60 states that a player who is fined must settle with the secretary of the league within five days or be debarred from playing or even sitting on the players' bench during a game until the fine has been paid. Therefore, we respectfully rise for information. Mr. President: "When was Burkett fined and how much?" Has he settled, and if so, when? A prompt answer will be appreciated.

It is seldom that an umpire receives a hand as he walks out to make his announcement, but when Umpire Walsh went out yesterday he received a round of applause. He responded by umpiring a good game.

Fred Reiger has been pitching pretty fine ball this season. Nine hits in the last 27 innings he has pitched isn't at all bad. For five innings yesterday Lowell couldn't touch him and then came a huge surprise when old Daddy Louie Legs hit the ball to the left field fence for a two-sacker.

The sale of Paddy Bauman to Detroit for $2500 and another player, should be an incentive to other New England players to put up their best efforts.

BOSTON, June 16.—Howard B. Gurney, a prominent young salesman of Melrose and son-in-law of Mayor Eugene H. Moore, had just turned from the grave of his wife in Melrose cemetery, into which the last shovelful of earth had fallen, late yesterday afternoon, when plain clothes men of the Melrose police department stopped on either side and arrested him on a charge of forgery. Within another minute Gurney was riding, handcuffed, not to the sudden home he had left an hour before, but to the Melrose police station.

The arrest was the sensational climax of a remarkable funeral. It was made so quietly that but very few of the hundreds who attended knew of the fact while it was going on—but the few who did were astounded.

Mrs. Gurney, the dead wife of the man under arrest, had been one of the most prominent young women in Melrose society. She was the daughter of Mayor Eugene H. Moore, and before her marriage had been employed in the mayor's office, where she made an unusually large acquaintance. As a mark of respect, all the public buildings of the city were closed yesterday and their flags displayed at half-mast, while many stores suspended business during the funeral. With the exception of Mrs. A. L. Livermore, no other woman had ever received a similar mark of respect in Melrose, and Mrs. Gurney was the youngest person ever to receive such an honor.

The procession to the cemetery was a long one. In the last coach rode Capt. O. E. Drown of the Melrose police and Patrolman William C. McCarthy in plain clothes. During the brief services at the grave they remained seated in the carriage. As the services closed and the friends gathered round to throw a few clouds upon the coffin the two policemen slowly approached the grave and the spot where Gurney was standing.

They stood for some time behind him while the husband, as if in a daze, watched the lifting of the grave. When this had been completed he turned slowly and started for the waiting carriage. He had gone but a few steps when he was halted and the arrest was made.

He accepted the situation without protest, and within a minute from his leaving the grave, was on his way to the Melrose police station to be handed over to the Stoneham police, on whose request the arrest had been made.

The warrant against Gurney was sworn out by Henry Millett of Stoneham, who alleges that three weeks ago, Gurney paid him a bill of $5 with a check of $25. Millett says that he gave Gurney his change, but that when he tried to cash the check it was said to be worthless.

COUNCIL HELD SEMI-MONTHLY MEETING LAST NIGHT

Despite counter attractions, including the circus, the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Trades and Labor council, held last night at 33 Middle street, was well attended.

The Labor day committee reported that it had visited several unions since the last meeting and urged them to take immediate action upon what they proposed to do on that day and report to the council at once. Eight locals reported that they had voted for a parade on Labor day.

Team Drivers union, local 72, reported that they were having trouble with three coal dealers, and the delegates were instructed to report the same back to their locals.

The following delegates were added to the Labor day committee: Bartenders, John O'Neill, Building Laborers, John Buey; Brewery Teamsters, Michael Hines; City Teamsters, Henry Beauparlant; Painters, John H. Murphy.

Several unions reported that they have contributed to the defense fund of the McNamara brothers.

The organizing, labor and legislative committee made progressive reports.

It was unanimously voted to recommend to the various locals that Labor day be celebrated with a parade and the usual entertainment on the South common. Several communications were received and proper action taken thereon.

The council will meet in special session on Thursday evening, June 29.

In accordance with the constitution, the secretary has notified all locals that the semi-annual election of officers will take place on Thursday evening, July 6.

FATALLY BURNED

Boy Fell Into Tub of Hot Water

Wladyslaw Wegzyniak, a little boy whose parents live at 15 Davidson street, died yesterday at St. John's hospital from burns he received some time ago at his home. The child's mother was washing and in the middle of the kitchen on the floor stood a tub of hot water. The little fellow while playing on the floor backed into the tub and received severe burns. He was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died yesterday afternoon.

Miss Cora Renaud accompanied on the piano.

CLASS OF EIGHT

Graduated From Lowell General Hospital

Eight young women were graduated from the Lowell General Hospital Training school yesterday. The exercises were held on the lawn in front of the hospital and the weather was ideal. The graduates were Misses Della Martha Buchanan, Lily May Dow, Elizabeth May Fraser, Lillian Ella Gould, Mabel Beatrice Hall, Alice Louise Lord, Gertrude Francis Robinson and Hulda Ottilia Rosell.

The exercises were opened with music by an orchestra, and prayer by Rev. George P. Kengott, Mrs. Jacob Rogers presiding.

The principal address was by Miss Mary M. Riddle, superintendent of the Newton hospital and president of the State Nurses' association.

She spoke of the reaction in public sentiment toward the trained nurse, as due largely to the fact that the nurse of today is trained as a handmaid of the medical staff, rather than as the Sister of Charity. She believes that more stress should be laid upon cultivation of the sympathetic side, and advocates higher standards of refinement and thoughtfulness in the candidates for the nursing profession, and said that the theory behind the work is what counts. In our vocational training we must have enough theory to make us resourceful.

Many avenues of work are opened to nurses today, and they are constantly increasing. Are we preparing ourselves along the line of preventive medicine?

In a hospital such as this, the nurses have special advantages, because the numbers are not great enough to prevent special personal study.

Before closing her address, she placed before the nurses an appeal from suffering humanity. In the Allegheny mountains, where the conditions are described, under which native

Anty Drudge on True Economy.

Mrs. Newed—"I'm economizing by doing my own washing. By boiling the clothes a long time I can get the dirt out without much hard rubbing."

Anty Drudge—"Economizing shucks! You're burning up money in fuel and wearing out your clothes faster when you boil them. Use Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water without boiling. You'll save fuel, save your clothes and you won't have any hard rubbing. That's true economy."

How much are the clothes worth that go into your weekly wash?

Many dollars at least.

Isn't it worth while to take good care of those clothes, to make them wear as long as possible?

Then, why soften them by boiling and hardrub them into holes on the washboard?

The Fels-Naptha way of washing will save your clothes.

Fels-Naptha will cleanse them thoroughly in cool or lukewarm water without boiling or hard rubbing.

The clothes will be sweeter, cleaner and whiter than you can get them any other way. And they'll wear twice as long.

Remember,—whether winter or summer, no boiling, no hot water, no hard rubbing.

Time saved, fuel saved, work easier, less bother.

Follow simple directions on the red and green wrapper.

and become trusted members of the family. What the family might do for love, the nurse must do from a high sense of duty. The secrets and the sanctity of the home are a trust, never to be treated lightly.

Dr. Gage also spoke of the importance of the district nursing movement, in opening new fields for service to humanity. The work is very far-reaching in its effects. It is an ever-widening field of usefulness, that will call upon the nurse for the best that she can give. The demand will call for higher qualifications, and the opportunities will be correspondingly great.

Dr. C. H. Stowell addressed the graduates, and noted the fact that the good friend of the hospital has contributed this year about $15,000 to the running expenses. He called attention to the detention department, as one of the new features, where patients who may develop contagious cases may be removed from the other patients. He also spoke of the fight that has had to be made against the brown-tail moths, to save the trees.

Mr. Jacob Rogers, president of the board of directors, presented the diploma, Miss Bowen, the superintendent, attaching the hospital pins that are the badge of graduation, to the uniforms of the young nurses.

The closing prayer was by Rev. A. St. John Chabre.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the exercises. Among the visitors present was Miss Lord, who last year resigned her position at assistant superintendent of the Lowell General, to become superintendent of a large hospital in Providence.

PROGRESS IN AVIATION

The next great show to attract Lowell citizens will be an aviation meet. Thus far only a few of us have seen the real flying machine and hence the first to exhibit here will be a great attraction to the people. The cross country feats of Orington and Atwood at Boston yesterday and their circling the state house were far more daring than anything attempted at the aviation meet at Squantum last year. In that contest Grahame-White carried off the honors by rounding the Boston Light, but a part of the original course that lay over the city of Boston was cancelled as being too dangerous. The air men have been busy ever since and today they are far more daring than they were then. The fact that in that time a great many have been killed has not daunted the survivors in the least. They are now testing their machines in cross country flights and in such daring feats as that of yesterday at Boston. The time is not far distant when everybody in Lowell will be as familiar with the real flying machine as they are with the big balloon of the Aero club that has made numerous ascents from the yard of the Gas Light company.

WORKMAN'S COMPENSATION LAW

One of the most important questions that the legislature has to deal with is that of framing a workman's compensation law that will serve all the interests concerned and at the same time stand the test of constitutionality. A commission of five was appointed to consider this question a few years ago, and after a very careful investigation the members have failed to reach any unanimous conclusion. This is not at all strange for the reason that a law enacted in New York was declared unconstitutional. New Jersey endeavored to get around the legal difficulty by making the law permissive instead of compulsory upon the employer's part. Even against this law there is legal objection and the manufacturers are now bringing up a test case in order to decide whether it can be enforced. Of the three bills introduced in the legislature by members of the commission one provides a compulsory system under which the employer will be obliged to pay compensation for any accident to the employee. This law also provides that the employer may escape liability by insuring in some authorized company. It also provides an accident board and authorizes the employer to enter into contracts with his employees for a plan of compensation that will meet the approval of this board.

The second measure is permissive and aims to solve the problem by a great mutual insurance company. The premiums are to be paid by employers, varying according to the extent of the risk involved in the particular line of business.

The third bill is also compulsory and provides that both employer and employee shall contribute to a fund from which accident claims shall be paid. Thus it will be seen that the problem as it is now placed before the legislature is very much complicated, and it would indeed be very difficult to produce from all three bills a single measure that would meet all the requirements of the situation and at the same time stand the tests of law. It is perhaps too much to expect that this problem will be properly solved by the present legislature, but it is better to go slow than to enact a measure that will prove abortive.

GIVING THE PEOPLE MORE POWER

It is now quite certain that the new charter will be enacted by the legislature. The senate is practically unanimous in passing it, and members of the house who know the feeling of the lower branch predict that it will have easy sailing there also. That will insure the reference of the charter to the citizens of Lowell in order that they may pass judgment upon it.

Some years ago the government of American cities was highly discreditable to this republic, and was freely criticized in other countries. The number of cases in which gigantic frauds were revealed and the perpetrators brought to justice has finally aroused the entire people of this republic and the general sense of shame has resulted in a widespread wave of reform that is sweeping the country from west to east, with the prospect that in the near future American cities will be conducting their business under a system more businesslike and more effective than ever before adopted.

The tendency is to give the people absolute control over their elected officials and to place in their hands the power of direct legislation in the initiative and referendum. What is true in this respect in regard to the cities is also true of the state and national elections. The people so far as the constitution will permit, will have absolute control over the government of the city, state and nation. It is now practically assured that United States senators will eventually be elected by the people, and the time may come when even the cumbersome machinery of presidential electors will be abolished, so that the president may be elected by direct vote of the people. It is now possible to elect a president of the United States with less than a majority of the votes cast provided he gets a majority of the presidential electors.

The municipality is a corporation in which every citizen has an equal voice in the government. It is true that the city does not pay financial dividends, but it pays dividends in a form of protection for all its citizens in well paved streets, in its sewerage system for the protection of health, its public parks, its schools and its fire department. If the city is extravagant in its expenditures the tax rate will go up and rents of tenement property will be advanced. Thus the man who hires a tenement is interested equally with the property owner in economic government.

The opposition to the charter mainly comes from those who have selfish reasons for opposing the change. There is every reason to believe that their opposition will prove fruitless in the face of the vast increase of power that is to be placed in the hands of the people through the new charter. The citizens will then realize as never before their sovereignty and they will have it forcibly illustrated in the government of their own city.

SEEN AND HEARD

To "Constant Reader": "When the 34 hour law goes into effect, beginning January 1, 1912, women and minors, of course, will average 3 hours a day. Does that answer your query?"

"I know why a camel can go eight days without a drink," said Jimmie, the Western Union messenger, to a reporter, as the circus parade passed the telegraph office.

"Why can he go eight days?" asked the reporter.

"Because he's got a water tank on his back," said Jimmie.

We know a fellow who, when he was fishing potato buds on the old home-stand, could get up at 1 o'clock in the morning and cover three acres of potatoes with patis green mixed with fluster pars in order to get through in time to go to town and see the circus parade—a very poor one at that. Yesterday, that same fellow, gray and unappetizing, tossed himself with vigors while the parade passed his office.

TO ONE NEGLECTED (Henry Edward Warner, in Baltimore Evening Sun.)

Who daily goes his plodding way And totes his load till he is gray, Yet never asks for praise nor pay?

Why, Father!

Who often obligates himself To pay our grinding grist in self— Yet sits unmolested on the shelf?

Poor Father!

Who pays the doctor bills and such And digs for coin to beat the Dutch— Yet who's not thought of very much?

It's daddy!

Who trots the kid at gray of dawn With only his pajamas on, And never dares to say "doggone?"

Same person.

Who is it never makes a kick But someone hits him with a brick? Who grins and bears it, thin and thick?

Our father!

Who washes dishes now and then, And risks the scolds of lesser men? Who fails, but gets right up again?

The Governor!

Who, when this weary life shall end, His way to heavenly rest will wend, And somewhere find a tardy friend?

Why, little ditty!

Hence is this lyric writ To praise poor dad a little bit— My interest is that I am it!

In Father!

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

It has always been the aim of the management of the Merrimack Square theatre to provide entertainment of the very highest type and in this particular much success has been attained. Only clean, wholesome amusement is desired, the kind at which none can take the slightest offence, and which appeals mostly to women and young folk.

"The Summer Girls," the leading feature of this popular playhouse this week, is one of the best things which is attracting large numbers of all performances. Talented young women, graduates of the Boston Conservatory of Music, are engaged in the

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

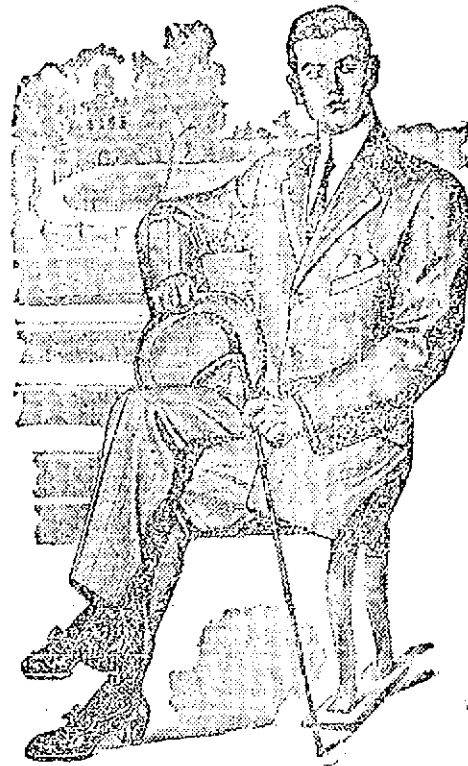

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N.Y.—"Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with headaches, backaches, and bearing down pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. It made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear corsets all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Miss A. A. GILES, Route 44, Dewittville, N.Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company, which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every sick suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is the best trade in the most fashionable hat of the season that we've advertised. Sennits are the scarcest braids in the market today.

A manufacturer who wanted money more than he wanted hats turned over to us four cases of Sennits a day or two ago for half the price he'd been getting.

A CONSTANT ITCHING AND BURNING

Night and Day. Cried All the Time. Used Most Everything. Cuticura Remedies Cured Itching in 3 Days. Healed in 8 Days.

"I was taken with the itch in April, 1904, and used most everything. I had a friend pay me a visit from Cumberland, and she advised me to use Cuticura Remedies while I did. The cure was certainly quick, and I use them to this day. I had it terribly under my knees. I only used one bar of Cuticura Soap, and I was the Cuticura Soap all the time. I have this will benefit others, as it has me, after Dr. — and others could do nothing for me." (Signed) Miss Ed Johnson, 1923 North St., N. W., Washington, D. C., April 3, 1910.

In a later letter Miss Johnson adds: "The trouble began with an eruption under my knees, and extended upwards toward my waist, until I was not able to sit down. It kept a constant itching and burning all the time, night and day. I went to my doctor but he could do me no good after I do not know how many medicines he gave me, and then told me I would be compelled to go to a skin specialist, which I positively refused to do. I cried all day and night. I made up my mind to try Cuticura Remedies, and tried Cuticura Pills, Ointment and Soap, and was entirely cured of the itching three days after I started using them. The healing took about eight days. I consider Cuticura Remedies marvelous, and would recommend them everywhere. I hope everyone suffering from any skin disease will try Cuticura, for it is a real lifesaver."

The Cuticura Remedies afford the speediest and most economical treatment for skin and scalp troubles. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole purveyors, 139 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass. 25¢ Mail order, samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, with 32¢ box of skin treatment.

ATTACHMENTS

On Ringling Brothers' Circus

The circus people as well as everyone else have their troubles at times, and yesterday two attachments were made to the Ringling Bros. circus. One was made at the instigation of Mr. Edward Cawley, owner of the Washington Tavern property, who alleges that as a result of one of the advance men mailing advertising matter on the roof of the building a leak was caused. The other attachment was made at the request of Michael Murphy who claims that the circus was using land owned by him without authority. In each instance the circus people furnished a bond as a guarantee that they would appear in court when the matters were ready for trial.

SAFE WAS BLOWN OPEN

Burglars Broke Into Factory Office
at East Jaffrey, N. H.

EAST JAFFREY, N. H., June 16.—The safe in the office of White Brothers cotton mill here was blown open early today but so quietly did the burglars do their work that no one was aroused and the night watchman of the factory, who was in the beller house at the probable time of the break, was not aware that there were any intruders upon the premises. Today is pay day at the factory and it is believed that the burglars thought that the payroll would be in the office safe. In this they were mistaken as the payroll money was in the vault of the local bank and the break netted the thieves only about $75.

Before entering the mill office the burglars broke into a blacksmith shop, where they stole some tools and into a harness shop, where they took some blankets which they wrapped about the safe to deaden the sound of the explosion. The knob on the safe was knocked off, nitro-glycerine was poured into the hole and the door was blown completely off. The break was discovered by the watchman when he made his rounds of the factory after day-break. On his previous visit to the mill office at midnight everything was all right. While the burglars worked on the safe an electric light burned in the office and another light was shining over the window through which they made their entrance and exit.

The authorities have no clue whatever to the identity of the burglars or the direction in which they fled.

BADLY DAMAGED

Maine in Worse Condition Than Thought

A Summer Cold

Nothing can equal a cold in summer for ability to stifle. There is a remedy that will relieve at once and usually cure such a cold in a day or two. Ask your druggist for Toiletine, a simple, harmless remedy which has many uses. A few teaspoonfuls taken internally will overcome the cold in short order. Applied externally it heals cuts, scratches, burns or chafed places, and soothes sunburn, brownish mouth poison, insect stings, prickly heat, etc. It is an invaluable remedy for every day needs in the home.

HAVANA, June 16.—That the shattering of the hull of the battleship Maine, expressed by the mute testimony of steel ribs bent apart, decks upheaved and hurled far from their original position, bulkheads crumpled like sheets of paper and apparently inextricable and hardly identifiable masses of construction material, is evidently far greater than supposed, was revealed yesterday as a result of a superficial observation made possible by the lowering of the water level in the coterminous total depth of seven feet.

On account of this unforeseen revelation of the terrific character of the explosion which sent the battleship to the bottom of the harbor, all plans heretofore proposed for dealing with the ultimate removal of the bulk have become merely conjectural until a considerably greater amount of water has been pumped out.

The bow section is still nearly twenty feet below the surface, and here it is believed the destruction will be found to have been even more complete. Col. Black of the engineer corps said last evening he had reasonable expectation of lowering the water to a total depth of eighteen or twenty feet within three or four days, which would render possible a fairly complete exploration of those portions of the ship, except the bow section, where men were likely to be on the night of the disaster. It is probable the searchers may be able to enter the officers' quarters in the after-superstructure today, where they may find the remains of Ensign Morrill, the only officer whose body was not recovered.

JAIL SENTENCE

FOR MAN WHO WAS FOUND GUILTY OF BUNDLE THEFTS

BOSTON, June 16.—Judge Stevens in the superior court yesterday afternoon sentenced William J. O'Neil, 22 years old, of Quincy, to two years in the house of correction. O'Neil was indicted on four counts of larceny of C. O. D. bundles from a department store. He pleaded guilty to the first and fourth counts. The police claimed some 53 bundles had been stolen from a chute by which they were conveyed from the top floor to the packing room and were delivered to the addresses and the collections made by the man who stole them.

There was testimony that the man had been in operation from March 1 to April 23, and that the concern that had been defrauded had spent $1000 in effecting the arrest.

O'Neil is a painter and formerly worked for the department store. The value of the 53 bundles was placed at $429.

Nicholas Di Nasti, aged 21, of Moon street, North End, was sent to the reformatory for the larceny of a piano from George L. Parker.

Fred Sawyer, alias Frank Joyce, indicted for robbing George W. Wheeler on May 1 of a watch fob, a satchel and two quarts of whiskey, in the South End, pleaded guilty. He was placed on probation upon agreeing to marry the woman with whom he has been living for a year.

HELD IN $500

WOBURN, June 16.—A sequel to the sensational arrest of Howard R. Gurney at the grave of his wife in Melrose came in the police court here today, when the young man was brought before the bar on a charge of forging and uttering. When the warrant had been read Gurney was held in $500 for a hearing June 22. He was taken back to the Stoughton lockup to await the arrival of bail.

It was to Henry T. Millet of Stoneham that Gurney is alleged to have passed the worthless check and the police stated today that the amount of the check was $22.50. It was signed "James C. Ayer," the police said.

NEAL ARRESTED

Charged With Larceny of Money

BOSTON, June 16.—A chase through Columbus avenue by a policeman in an automobile and the capture of George S. Neal, aged 30, of 59 Appleton street, who, it is charged, had struck Allie Lewis of 529 Columbus avenue over the head with a revolver after seizing a roll of bills amounting to $65, was witnessed yesterday afternoon.

Neal was taken to station 5 in the automobile which had been pressed into service in the chase, and was locked up on a charge of larceny. The money and the revolver with which the assault was committed were found in his clothing, the police said.

A discussion arose between Neal and the latter's wife in the apartment of the Lewis family about 4 o'clock, regarding a money transaction between Neal and Mrs. Lewis. The latter had drawn $65 from a bank earlier in the day to pay certain bills, and she held the money in her hand.

Neal declared Mrs. Lewis owed him $105, and the latter asserted that she had settled Neal's bill in full, according to the story told the police.

Neal thereupon, it is declared, seized the entire roll of bills from Mrs. Lewis.

Mail orders filled, charges prepaid by Ezo Chemical Co., Rochester, N. Y.

This is NOT Necessary

When her husband attempted to secure the money, Neal struck him with the butt of a 22-calibre revolver, it is charged, and fled down the stairs and into the thoroughfare.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lewis gave chase, and the commotion attracted Patrolman Alfred W. Readman of division 5. He jumped into an automobile that was passing and ordered the chauffeur to give chase. Neal ran into Clarendon park, where he was captured by Readman.

Neal drew the roll of bills from his pocket and handed it to the officer, the police say, and when he was searched a loaded revolver was found in his clothing.

Neither Neal nor Lewis could tell the police said, the particulars of the money transaction that led to the alleged assault and larceny.

SENATOR LODGE WANTS TO CUT EXPENSES ON MINERAL WATER

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Apparently uneasy over the growing habit of mineral water drinking by senators and their office staffs, Senator Lodge yesterday introduced and had adopted a resolution which is expected to check the practice. The resolution invests in the committee on audit and control of contingent expense control of all expenditures for running expenses of the senate.

Senator Bacon inquired whether the passage of the resolution would not interfere with existing contracts.

"Not at all," said Mr. Lodge, "it relates to running expenses such as mineral water for use in the senate office building."

The bills for mineral water for senators' offices are said to have been unusually heavy for the senators' demand and get the most expensive brands.

The same spirit of economy that is cutting down the water bills is held responsible by senators for the failure of the summer lemonade to appear in the senate cloak rooms.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER ARRIVED IN CLEVELAND TODAY FOR HIS SUMMER STAY

CLEVELAND, O., June 16.—Lamenting that it was impossible for him to visit Cleveland without attracting newspapermen to the station, John D. Rockefeller arrived here today for his annual summer stay at Forest Hill, his estate in East Cleveland. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Rockefeller and the latter's sister, Miss Lucy Speltman. Mr. Rockefeller, on leaving his private car, was immediately surrounded by a flock of reporters.

"Please, please, gentlemen," pleaded the richest man in the world, "don't question me. Please, please."

He added: "Why can't I be allowed to come home like any ordinary man?"

G. A. Rudd, Mr. Rockefeller's brother-in-law, met the party at the station and carried its members away to Forest Hill in an automobile.

BOAT DISABLED

Passengers Transferred to Another Steamer

CLEVELAND, O., June 16.—Two hundred members of the Michigan Bankers association, who started on a pleasure jaunt, leaving Detroit yesterday on the steamer Western States, are on their way to Buffalo on the steamer City of Cleveland this morning after having been transferred from the Western States following the disabling of that boat in mid-lake last night.

Wireless telegraphy was responsible for the quick rescue and it was the first time in the history of the Great Lakes that the wireless was put to such a practical test. The Western States was disabled by the bursting of a cylinder and though she was in no immediate danger the party of financiers decided to leave her when the City of Cleveland, responding to distress signals came alongside. The accident to the Western States occurred off Amherstburg, Ontario, shortly after dark. The engine was slightly scalded, but no other persons were injured.

The wireless call for help was sent out immediately and the City of Cleveland and the Eastern States responded. The former vessel was only a short distance away and started for the disabled boat, the Eastern States being informed that her aid was not needed.

When the City of Cleveland arrived the bankers held a conference and decided not to stay aboard the Western States. The two boats were then lashed together and the gangplanks set. The sea was calm and the transfer was made without accident. It was after midnight when the City of Cleveland left the stranded vessel bound for Buffalo.

The Western States turned her nose toward Detroit and is attempting to reach that port, traveling by means of her auxiliary engines.

Body of a Girl Found in Bath-Tub in a Hotel

BOSTON, June 16.—Miss Gertrude A. Lovering, an elocutionist, 23 years old, of 15 Fellsway, West Somerville, was found dead, her head submerged in a bath tub in the Hotel Hollis last night. The medical examiner believes that the woman was accidentally drowned.

She had evidently filled the bath tub to take a bath. In reaching to shut off the water she stumbled head first into the tub and was unable to recover her balance.

A bellboy at the hotel, John Sullivan, hearing the water running in the tub for two hours, broke open the bathroom door and found her bending over the tub with feet on the floor and head submerged.

She was a good-looking woman and well dressed and carried a suit case. She was the daughter of George H. Lovering, for many years a grocer in Charlestown. Among her effects was found a contract in which she gave the name of Gertrude A. Livermore and contracted to sell pictures.

Sullivan was the last to see her alive. She called for a shoe horn to remove a new pair of shoes. She told him she was going to take a bath. He said that at that time she had had shown no nervousness, but was very talkative.

She walked into the hotel at 4.30 and registered under the name of Madeline Miller of the Hollis Street theatre. She told Clerk William Murphy she wanted a good room, commented on the weather and was shown to room 401 on the fourth floor, which has a private bath.

The young woman left her home early yesterday morning. The death of her mother less than a month ago had affected her somewhat.

TUFTS COLLEGE Class Day Celebration Held Today

MEDFORD, June 16.—Parents, sisters, brothers, and friends of the members of the senior classes of Tufts and Jackson colleges flocked by thousands to the Tufts college campus today for the class day celebration. Although the co-educational feature at Tufts was abolished a year ago by the organization of Jackson college for the women, the men and the women held their class day celebration jointly today.

The first event came at 9 a. m. when the seniors attended private services in Goddard chapel, conducted by President Hamilton of Tufts.

Two hours later the public chapel exercises were held. After prayer by President Hamilton an address of welcome was delivered by Allen McLane of Roxbury, president of the class and the chapel orator.

Charles D. Keene of Dorchester, Miss Edith Sturtevant of Winchester read the class poem and then the seniors sang the class ode, the music of which was composed by Richard R. Lamont of Somerville and the words by Charles Gitt of Arlington.

Luncheon was served at 1 p. m. in the Goddard gymnasium and later in the afternoon came the principal event of the day, the tree exercises on the slope below the chapel. President McLane of the senior class welcomed the visitors and introduced the speakers. Joseph W. Martin of Everett delivered the tree oration, Charles Gitt of Arlington read the class history, and then came the presentation of gifts to the lower classes.

The remainder of the afternoon was given over to private and fraternity "spreads."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

A RECORD ECLIPSE

June 16.—If you had been alive on June 16, 1806, you would have had a scare thrown into you that would probably have kept you talking ever since, the same as every Irishman that ever saw the "big sun" is still talking about "the right of the big wind." On the above date there was a total eclipse of the sun that stands as a record in the United States. For five minutes the moon was in a position that obscured the light of Old Sol to such an extent that the chickens went to roost wondering what had made the day pass so quickly. Children were frightened out of their wits, and some of their elders weren't any too comfortable. Some were driven to pray and others to drink. The day was cloudless and this added to the scare, because it gave Mr. Moon a chance to get in the shady work without any interference. Some people insisted that it was a sign from heaven and that the Master was about to show his wrath for the sins of the world. But everything came out all O. K., showing however that a "guilty conscience" is its own accuser. If the same thing were to happen today it would probably be funny to watch the actions of some of the leading "trust magnates."

Guardian's Sale of Real Estate at Public Auction

Saturday, June 17, 1911, at 2.30 P.M.

THE GEORGE C. BARON PROPERTY SITUATED IN TYNGSBORO, MASS., ON VARNUM AVE., AND THE STATE HIGHWAY, OPPOSITE THE VESPER COUNTRY CLUB.

By virtue of a license granted to me by the probate court for the county of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, dated May 26, 1911, I shall sell at public auction on the premises in Tyngsboro, in said county on Saturday, June 17, 1911, at 2.30 o'clock p. m., the following described real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in Tyngsboro, containing 10 acres more or less, being all of the premises east of the state highway conveyed to George C. Baron by Lucy A. Littlehale by deed, dated May 29, 1908 and recorded with the Middlesex North district deed book 423, page 423, the strip of land between the westerly line of state highway and the river having been conveyed in 1909 to the Vesper Country Club. This piece of real estate is situated about four miles from Lowell, Mass., about two miles from Tyngsboro bridge has a frontage of about 390 feet on Varnum avenue, the main road from Lowell and a frontage of about 250 feet on the state highway.

The house and barn are new, having been built about two years. The house is of the bungalow style and has six large, square rooms on the main floor with a large storage room above. There is a high posted cellar under the entire building that has a solid mortar wall from the very bottom, and the cellar is fully 10 feet in depth, with a door that leads to the rear of the yard on the ground level. The first floor consists of a large reception hall, with parlor dining room and two chambers leading from it, with a kitchen in the rear with a large pantry with sink, pump and plenty of closet room. There is a toilet on this floor. There is a front and a back piazza that make it very pleasant. The house is steam heated, radiators in every room. The barn is a one story and a half structure, has stalls for 2 horses, stanchions for 2 cows, hay loft, large, roomy carriage house, harness room and a long open carriage house attached. There is a good hen house and other out buildings. There is one of the best wells of water on the place, in the state, with a pump in the pantry.

A more beautiful spot for a permanent or a summer home would be hard to find, where it is easy to reach, either by electric or steam cars. The steam cars stop at the Country Club bridge. The electric car fares are five cents to the bridge from Lowell and is but a short walk from the bridge. The location and the pleasing view of the surrounding country is hard to equal. The buildings are set back from Varnum avenue, on the highest point of ground, commanding a most magnificent view of the Merrimack river. The steam cars winding on the westerly side of the river to the north, the state highway on the east and the wide river in the center, together with the rolling country and its banks of green foliage until your eye reaches the beautiful colonial residence of the Brindley estate. The Country Club on the old Tyngs island lies a little to the southwest. Willow Dale, Lakeview and Long pond, summer pleasure parks are within 10 minutes' drive. So you see what we have to offer and will sell to the highest bidder this newly built country home, and if you feel that you are interested, come and see it. You will be pleased even if you do not buy.

Terms of sale: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price must be secured to the auctioneer when the property is struck off. Other terms of sale. Per order, JOHN F. HALL, Guardian GEORGE C. BARON.
